Together We Make It Happen

by Greg Morales

Make what happen? That of course, is such an ambiguous statement that it could get several, if not very different definitions to its meaning. By definition, the word happen means to occur by chance. Is it that together we make things occur by chance? Is it that our existence at this school and all our achievements are merely by chance? What a pessimistic thought! Remember, the glass is half full, not half empty. What do we make happen! Winning? Maybe, but would it be safe to say that everyone or everything here has a winning tradition. Success can't occur merely by chance: luck and most importantly, skill breeds success. That is it. We make success happen. Success comes with experience; it comes from winning and losing, from trial and error, and from crying and laughing. We each contribute piece by piece a part of ourselves to make us and everything around us a little better. Each piece fits together in one large puzzle, that only upon our departure is complete. Yet, such a puzzle is only a part of a larger picture that is yet to be filled in. We came to Tustin High School as individuals and leave as one group, one body, united and strong and who together, not by ourselves, make success happen. Turn the pages. Judge for yourself. Always remember there is still one last puzzle piece to be found.

Tillers Give Some Hawaiian Punch

by Tanya Lefevre and Greg Morales

Ah . . . Hawaii, the island paradise. The beautiful ocean and shoreline. The enchanting atmosphere. The perfect place for a football game, football? Yes, it is true. This years' season opener was played against the Kapaa Warriors of Hawaii. Senior guard Mike Biard said of the trip, "We had no radio, no T.V., no distractions." Those do not sound like the ideal conditions to visit Hawaii! "It was a great social and cultural experience for everyone who went," said head offensive coach, Ed Carberry. "We were treated really well by the Hawaiians, even after we beat them, said football player C.T. Tomczak. Yet, when your pep squad and most dedicated fans were with you on the 50th state how could you not have fun? Oh, after the game the team and coaches did get their radios back.

Kapaa Football Game 9

Tillers Crush Kapaa 26-0

by Tanya Lefevre and Greg Morales

On Friday, September 5, the Tustin Tillers kicked off the '86 football season against the Kapaa Warriors of Kauai, Hawaii. In the first half, the Tillers scored on drives of 83, 21, and 61 yards, and went on to defeat the Warriors 26 to 0. Led by nine returning offensive starters, the Tillers gained 295 of their 389, total yards rushing while at the same time holding Kapaa to 72 total yards. Tim Hollinger put the first Tustin points on the board with a 1-yard touchdown run. Mark Ropele and Tim Kotlar added field goals of 39 and 37 yards in the second quarter. Adding to the Tiller lead was Robert Prochnow's 32-yard touchdown reception making the halftime score 19 to 0. In the third quarter, Hollinger finished the scoring with another 1-yard touchdown gallop. In recording the shut-out, Walt McMahon proved his dominating presense by grabbing 2 of Tustin's three interceptions. The game was definately a sign of things to come, and together the Tustin Tillers, week by week, filled in the puzzle.

Tustin Defeats Foothill 21-6 For First Time In 14 Years

by Greg Morales

Before the game, one Tustin High School student put it this way — "If we win, great! If we tie, good! If we lose, that is tradition!" On October 2, 1986, in mild temperatures at Northrup Field, tradition was broken. The Knights of Foothill's 14 year reign had ended. The serfs from Tustin rose, fought, and overthrew the Feudal knights. The Knights were stripped of the gauntlet, and at least for now Tustin High School held ruling jurisdiction over the populated lands of Tustin.

Together, the Tiller football team put 21 points on the scoreboard against Foothill's 6. With Foothill up 3 to 0, and the first half ticking to a close, George Menges connected with Scott Pulaski for an 84 yard reception. Pulaski's catch, aided by his thigh, was the turning point of the game. On the next play, tailback, Lani Machado (23 for 81), took the ball to the right for an 8 yard t.d. run. Tim Kotlar's p.a.t. gave Tustin all the points it would prove to need. The Tiller defense led by Walt McMahon and Brian Hardin stopped four Foothill drives inside the 20 yard line. A 16 yard T.D. pass from Mengas to Patstone in the third quarter gave the Tillers a 14 to 3 lead. Anticipation grew, only to be silenced as the Knight's came back to add 3 more points, making the score 14 to 6. Foothill seemed on the verge of a comeback, but on the ensuing play Walt McMahon sealed all Foothill hopes as he broke off an 87 yard t.d. return. Pandemonium swept the crowd and a wall of sound echoed throughout. The crowd swelled and as the gun sounded the field was swamped with ecstatic Tillers. It was a win a long time in coming. As Coach Ancich said, "We beat 'the team'!"

The Moment of Ecstasy!

by Suzy Jones

After 14 years, the Gauntlet is returned to its rightful owner, the Tustin Tilters. Playing for the Gauntlet originated back in the 1960's. It all started when students from Foothill and Tustin would break into the administration building to steal the Foothill Knight or the Tiller Bell. On one occasion the Knight was returned without its glove or Gauntlet and it was at that point that administrators decided the cross town rivals would play for possession of it each year. This year the Tilters did not have to steal the Gauntlet, instead they played an incredible game to win it back.

Together We Act Funny

Tillers Enjoy Homecoming Week

by Sean Killehua

How do you get your fellow classmates to eat chocolate marshmallows, eat funny colored jello, and run around the field with a ski hat and goggles on? Probably the same way you get Senior guys to kiss their moms in front of the whole student body; by involving them in Homecoming week. The Homecoming assembly on Friday was a great way to end the week and a perfect lead-in to the Homecoming game and dance.

The assembly began with the announcing of Mr. Tiller. Mr. Tiller was LeSean London of the Junior class. He smiled with pride while showing his lovely bouquet of carrots. Then the first heat of the revived bug race began. The sophomores raced the freshmen and the sophomores barely won. While they rested the marshmallow drop began. "The marshmallow drop was the best. It was messy and fun," said James Hatch. It worked like this. One team-member would take a marshmallow, dip it in chocolate, climb to the top of a ladder, and drop it into the mouth of a team-mate. The class with the most eaten were the winners. That team turned out to be the sophomores.

The other teams were left with chocolate on their face.

They cleaned up and readied themselves for the second heat of the bug race. Michelle Barry said she liked this year's assembly, "better than last year because they brought back the bug race." It most definitely is one of the better events.

The second heat began with the seniors leading the juniors. The juniors never caught up leaving the seniors to race for the win against the sophomores. Before that happened though, the ski solemn took place. Students ran through cones with boards on their shoes and a ski hat and goggles on their heads. An odd race and sort of a disappointment. As Frank Serrao put it, "It was funny and a good idea but it was bummer 'cause it didn't work right. At the begining I was laughin' so hard, those people fell . . . " Everyone was disqualified except the sophomores; their skis were the only ones to stay on."

The outcome of the race left everyone in a rowdy mood to watch the seniors blow away the sophomores in finals of the bug race. Everyone enjoyed themselves at this assembly but we mustn't forget the preceding days of enjoyment while we celebrated Home-coming. There was the Jello eating contest, the Bigwheel race, the Test-tube pour, and the Whip-cream pile. The classes gathered points in these activities and at the end of the week the class with the most points was the Home-coming week winner. Of course the seniors won with no problem.

Homecoming '87

Beat 'Em and Dance

By Sean Killehua

"We clobbered 'em," said Todd Robinson in reference to the Homecoming game. That we did! The final score was 28 to 17 against Newport Harbor. It went more like a tennis match than a football game; the score went back and forth like a fuzzy Spalding tennis ball. First we scored 7-0, then they scored 7-7, and they made a field goal (7-10 oh-no!), then we scored again 14-10 and again 21-10 and they scored 21-17 and we scored 28-17 and that was all. Simple! It really kept everyone biting their nails in anticipation. We all had fun. Deeanna Routon said she liked the game because "we beat 'em".

The half-time activities were exciting too. We watched last years Homecoming Queen Nancy Drouin fly in on an hot air balloon. After a crash landing Julie James was named Homecoming Queen. Julie boarded the basket and floated Away "Over the Rainbow."

Oh what a Homecoming dance! At Mickey Mouse's House, the Disneyland Hotel, we stomped, moved, limboed and slow danced from 8-12. Not only that, but we got to see ourselves on video, as well as getting our mugs on film. (courtesy of Albert & James). All this, and that special someone, carried us to the apex of excitement.

A Swell Bunch

By Lori Collins

ASB- What did it stand for? "Another Shrewd Bunch?" Well, not exactly. By definition, shrewd means cunning and discriminating. As far as can be detected, the ASB at Tustin High was not a group that discriminated or tried to deceive you. It was a group that served to provide the students with activities, assemblies, dances, fundraisers and most important, to make sure that the school year was fantastic and unforgettable. This year's Activities Commissioner Julie James replied, "All ASB members were excited to work together and help make all activities successful through a true group effort."

Led by first year Advisor Steve Roderick, a man of unique and useful ideas, superior leadership ability and extreme patience, the ASB was able to organize itself into A Swell Bunch. Mr. Roderick stated, "This year as ASB advisor has been one of my most enjoyable in education. It proved to be challenging, exciting, and A Successful Beginning." A bunch that proved to direct where a few puzzle pieces were to be placed and on connecting such pieces to the whole puzzle helped on contributing to a successful year.

ASB Leads The Way

This year's ASB consisted of twelve cabinet officers and four class officers from each class. The 1986-87 ASB cabinet officers were: President Scott Wilbur, Vice-President Kristin Vogt, Secretary Lori Collins, Treasurer Helen Fields, Activities Commissioner Julie James, Athletics Commissioner Darren Puckett, Pep Commissioner Jan Rice, Elections Commissioner Lee Pooler, Publicity Mary Spellman, Council Representative Mike Biard, I.C.C. Kim Ellison, and Fine Arts Commissioner Mindy Siskowic. The 1986-87 Senior class officers were President, Kristy Shives, Vice President, Drew Lautrup, Secretary/Treasurer, Joelle Peckham, and Representative, Susan Marfleet. Junior class officers were President, Jennifer Hawkins, Vice President, Marshall Eddy, Secretary/Treasurer, Jaimie Peckham and Representative, Stephanie Whisler. The sophomore class officers were President, Joanna Zuniga, Vice President, Brent Drouin, Secretary/Treasurer, Crystal Lautrup, and Representative, Lissa Collins. The freshman class officers were President, Jenny Mahar, Vice President, Tiffany Johnson, Secretary/Treasurer, Wendy Basset and Representative, Katie Knaggs.

Wait, don't go yet. You still don't know what ASB really stands for. Well, it stands for Associated Student Body, and Don't forget it.

Together We Drill

By Sean Killehua

"It's a lot of hard work. It's difficult to explain to new girls why to work hard but it really is worth it." Laura Frazer, Drill Team Captain tells us about Drill Team. You probably thought it was easy being on Drill Team, but not by a long shot. First the girls had to try out. Once they made it they practiced all summer long. Then with the beginning of school, practiced from 7AM to 9AM. The girls were given quizzes on their routines. If you saw any of the routines you know how hard the tests must have been.

It all payed off though. The Drill Team had taken first in a major band review which was a real boost. Laura Frazer admitted, "It really helped to have a win like this so you can show the girls (the Trophy) and say, 'This is why you work hard.'"

"They all get along real well, although they do have a hard time putting up with each other sometimes." Laura compared it to a family. "We're like a big family. Sometimes we yell at each other, but just like a family we later say, 'I'm sorry!'"

It was this hard work and close relations that gave THS a polished Drill Team with excellent showmanship for the 1986-'87 year.

Tiller Band

Practice Makes Perfect!

by Greg Morales

As we entered the 1986-1987 school year, most of us realized that the football team had spent its summer preparing for the season. But did you know that the marching units had also put in considerable time this summer preparing for their grueling marching season? The band, like the football team put in considerable time developing formations, running through set drills, and developing the syncopation and timing needed for a respectable performance. As the saying goes, "Practice Makes Perfect," and practice they did. They rehearsed every weekday morning from 7:00 - 9:00, and on Wednesday nights from 7:00 - 9:30 P.M. A.J. Gallo, the baritone sax player said, "I like it sometimes, but I do not like getting up for zero period."

Due to extensive training, the band of '87 was much improved from the previous year. They won a third place trophy at the Tustin Tiller Days' Parade. The Drum Major and Majorettes won first place trophies, and the Tall Flags came in third place. The Drill Team would have gotten a second place trophy if not for a technicality; there were none given out!

The success continued throughout the year as new band director, Paula Sanchez, overhauled and tuned the band, bringing out the full potential of each member. Sara Garner said, "We've improved so much because Paula is strict and we listen to her." Ms. Sanchez wanted her students to enjoy music for the rest of their lives and to remember what fun it was in high school. Ms. Sanchez said, "I want to create unity among the four squads." In essence, she wanted to have the squads and all of the members fit together like a puzzle. A puzzle that is complete only with contributions from each member.

Pep Has Pizazz

By Tanya Lefevre and Greg Morales

If you enjoy screaming and yelling, freezing through winter in a 14-inch skirt, sweating through spring in a wool sweater, and picking gravel out of your knees, then pep squad is for you. Stop! If our cheerleaders freeze to death in 60° weather don't you kinda wonder what happens to the cheerleaders back east? Just when you thought cheerleading was all glamour. Well it's not. It takes a lot of hard work and time to be a part of Tustin's pep squad. Stop! At least cheerleaders back East do not sweat to death in spring.

The 1986-87 squad showed their talent at camp this year. The Varsity Songleaders, led by Patty Rodriguez perserved through grueling competition to capture the highly coveted sweepstakes award for best all-around.

The dynamic duo of Varsity and J.V. Cheer led by Stephanie Sneathen and Lisa Golka came home with 3rd place in competition. With Katie Melcher and Courtney Augustine leading the Frosh-Soph squads, 25 of the girls will be chosen to represent Tustin in a state wide competition.

Guided by Eric Anderson, the girls will compete with schools all over the state. This is new to the girls, but with their great talent and pizazz, they are sure to make Tustin High proud.

5. Songleaders- Amy Ikeda, Michelle Rickard, Brenda Harness, Kerry Tolman, Jody Borden, Heather Evans, Brenda Harmon, Shannon Joy, Susan Conklin, Patty Rodriguez

Fall Production Sets The Stage

A company of Wayward Saints

"... Don't let the title fool you, it was a pretty down-to-earth play. Set in Europe in the 1500's, it closely resembled the melodrama of the early 1800's. "... it is neat to be traditional, yet modern, and still hysterical," said Mrs. Roseman, who directed the play.

A group of actors forced to earn their bread (quite literally) by traveling around Europe, drives them to the borders of loonytune land. Commedia, the name given to this crazy type of theater, is where we get our word "zany".

How can you get normal (?!) high school actors to be "zany"? Matt Winkle put it this way: "I was kind of wary at first (of the play), but as it took shape, I felt more at ease."

A huge production like this took a lot of hard work, and actors and crew had to work together to get the job done. The long hours put in by everyone involved, paid off in an excellent blend of comedy and drama. Said actor Todd Robinson, "It was a brilliant work of art!"

1. Ready for anything- (from front) are Laura Frazer, Matt Winkle, Tim McFarland and Joylyn Williamson in their various roles.
2. To the bitter end- Capitano (Tim McFarland) Attempts to gain the upper hand in a duel with Harlequin (Onyx Jognson).
3. Thoughts of horror- run through the mind of Capitano, portrayed by Tim McFarland as Colombine (Joylyn Williamson) wrenches him into submission.
4. Planted immovable- is Pantalone, played by Todd Robinson, as Ruffiana (Misty Shrode) holds on admiringly.

Keywanettes Support Community Service

by Greg Morales

Kids, the generation of the future are the major focus of the Keywanettes. The community service club engaged in projects that benefited the Laurel House (house for runaway kids) and Sheepfold (organization for battered and abused children and women). Not only did they engage in outside community services, but they also distributed Homecoming Grams and organized the Father-Daughter Dinner. The girls were a manifestation of the honorable intentions of giving and love, and it was their unselfish giving of time and affection that propelled them to the ranks as one of the most influential clubs not only in the academic community of school, but in the outside world of injustice.

T.B.C.-Tustin Broadcaster Company

by Greg Morales

Under the supervision of new advisor, Mr. Howard Dudley, the Broadcaster staff aimed to publish a periodical that displayed the journalistic traits of a quality paper. In producing such a paper, the staff experimented with fresh lay-out designs and unique article topics. In incorporating such designs and topics, the Broadcaster aimed to focus on individual as well as group accomplishments, and in doing so, planned to systematically increase circulation. Advisor Dudley stated, "Based on student effort, I think our paper is competitive with other schools within Orange County." The staff of Pennie Albert, Nichelle Colasont, Christine Cortez, Rhonda Melton, Arturo Pugliese, Jason Strutt, Peter Touchstone, Lawrence Will, Felicia Wiltz and Christina Wermes, together published a newspaper of a respectable nature.

Rapping: More Than Just Words

by: Doneisa Anderson and Gloria Velasquez

There is a new trend that has changed an ordinary day at Tustin High, it involves students to word together as a unique team. These people put their artistic ideas and talents together which creates exceptional unity and harmony. These students come to school to learn, yet still have fun by releasing their energy through rapping.

Rapping is more than just words rhyming, it's an idealistic way for someone to express their feelings and their outlook towards life. Kalani Yumul thinks of rapping as "an art that one needs to master. It's all done for fun! However, different people rap for different reasons." As Curtis Johnson explains, he raps because, "It makes him feel good. Rapping tells people how you can do other things without getting into trouble in school."

Some well recognized rappers in the music industry are Run D.M.C., L.L. Cool J., Timex Social Club and Whodni. These rappers produced images for some of the rappers at Tustin High such as: Edgar Delgado, Joey Eatmen, Le Bron Jones, Steve Wimberly, Kalani Yumul, Andrew Maysonet, Woody Knighten, Leo Parker, Rich Goldstein, and Le Sean London.

Where's the party - Maurice Parker, Leo Parker, Sean London, And Edgar Delgado, having fun on their lunch break. From off the yard - Three of the attractive boys; Andrew Maysonet, Curtis Johnson, and Edgar Delgado. Ready set pose - The attractive boys together with Def Rock crew Kalani Yumul, Edgar Delgado, Joey Eatmen, Steve Wimberly, LeBron Jones, Tim Jackson (T.J.), Andrew Maysonet, center Woody Knighten. Where did everybody go - Woody Knighten stands alone, but always ready to rap.

Tomorrow's Broadway

What's a Thespian? Well many years ago (about 500 B.C.) in a land far, far, away (Greece), there was this cat named Thespis, the first actor.

The Thespians take after their founder by putting in a lot of hard work, time and effort. Besides staging five major plays (see Drama section), they also performed for local schools in a childrens' production titled "Magic Theater". In addition to all this they compete against other schools in numerous Drama festivals.

The year would not have been complete without the Drama Academy Awards Banquet in June. A lot of hard work was put forth this year in Drama, the banquet is another way to reward their efforts.

Diplomatic Relations

by Greg Morales

As citizens of California, we are represented in the Nation's Senate by two men. As students of Tustin High School, we are represented in our own Senate, not by two men, but by forty individuals. Each class is represented by ten students and it is these elected students that as a supplementary group to the ASB aid in organizing and planning activities. Before this year, the Senate's main duty was to pick up trash after football games, but the Senate has taken on greater duties in that they aid in decorating for big dances or take on school related community activities. The concept of a senate is an attempt to allow students to gain a channel and consequently a voice in the bureaucracy of the high school. Senior Senator Ted Kim said, "It is not a strong voice, but at least it is not a whisper."

The I.C.C.

The I.C.C., the Inner Club Council. The knights of the Round Table. The internal vein. The inside track. Led by covert president Kim Ellison, the council of club presidents assemble to plan and organize fairs and activities. It is this council- the equivalent to the Security Council of the United Nations- that advocates Tiller spirit- the exceptional spirit- the spirit of getting involved and forming new friendships.

Tustin High Hosts OCAD

by James Hatch

Once again, Tustin High School was host to the OCAD competition. This time the competition was divided up into three regional sections of Orange County. Our team competed in the Central Region with sixteen other teams competing in our territory. The atmosphere at our school was very ideal for most of the students.

Due to the hard work of the many volunteers, both the competitors and parents commented on how well the competition was run. Former Tiller principal, Don Stepnitz, was the key organizer who helped the competition run smoothly.

The Tustin Junior/Senior team placed third in our region and then went on to compete against twenty-one other schools in the county competition. Our team worked hard to prepare for the competition. Spending countless lunches and after school hours in a boxed up classroom. The time spent studying was well worth it due to the fact that many awards were won by all of the twelve team members and alternates.

OCAD Club Is A Big Success

In its third year, the OCAD club has become more prosperous than ever. President Mary Spellman attributes the success to strong leadership by the officers and the school's growing interest in academics. The OCAD club is designed to promote interest in academics throughout the school. The club was involved in many activities. Throughout the year, the club visited many museums and went to the San Diego Zoo. The club also sponsored the OCAD team. Many of the volunteers that helped in the competition, held at our school, were from the OCAD club. The club officers who have created the success of the club were: Mary Spellman, President; Andrew Chi, Vice-President; Laura Frazer, Secretary; Ted Kim, Treasurer; James Hatch, Senior Representative; Josh Bricker, Junior Representative; and Betsy Bradley, Sophomore Representative.

Future Rembrandt

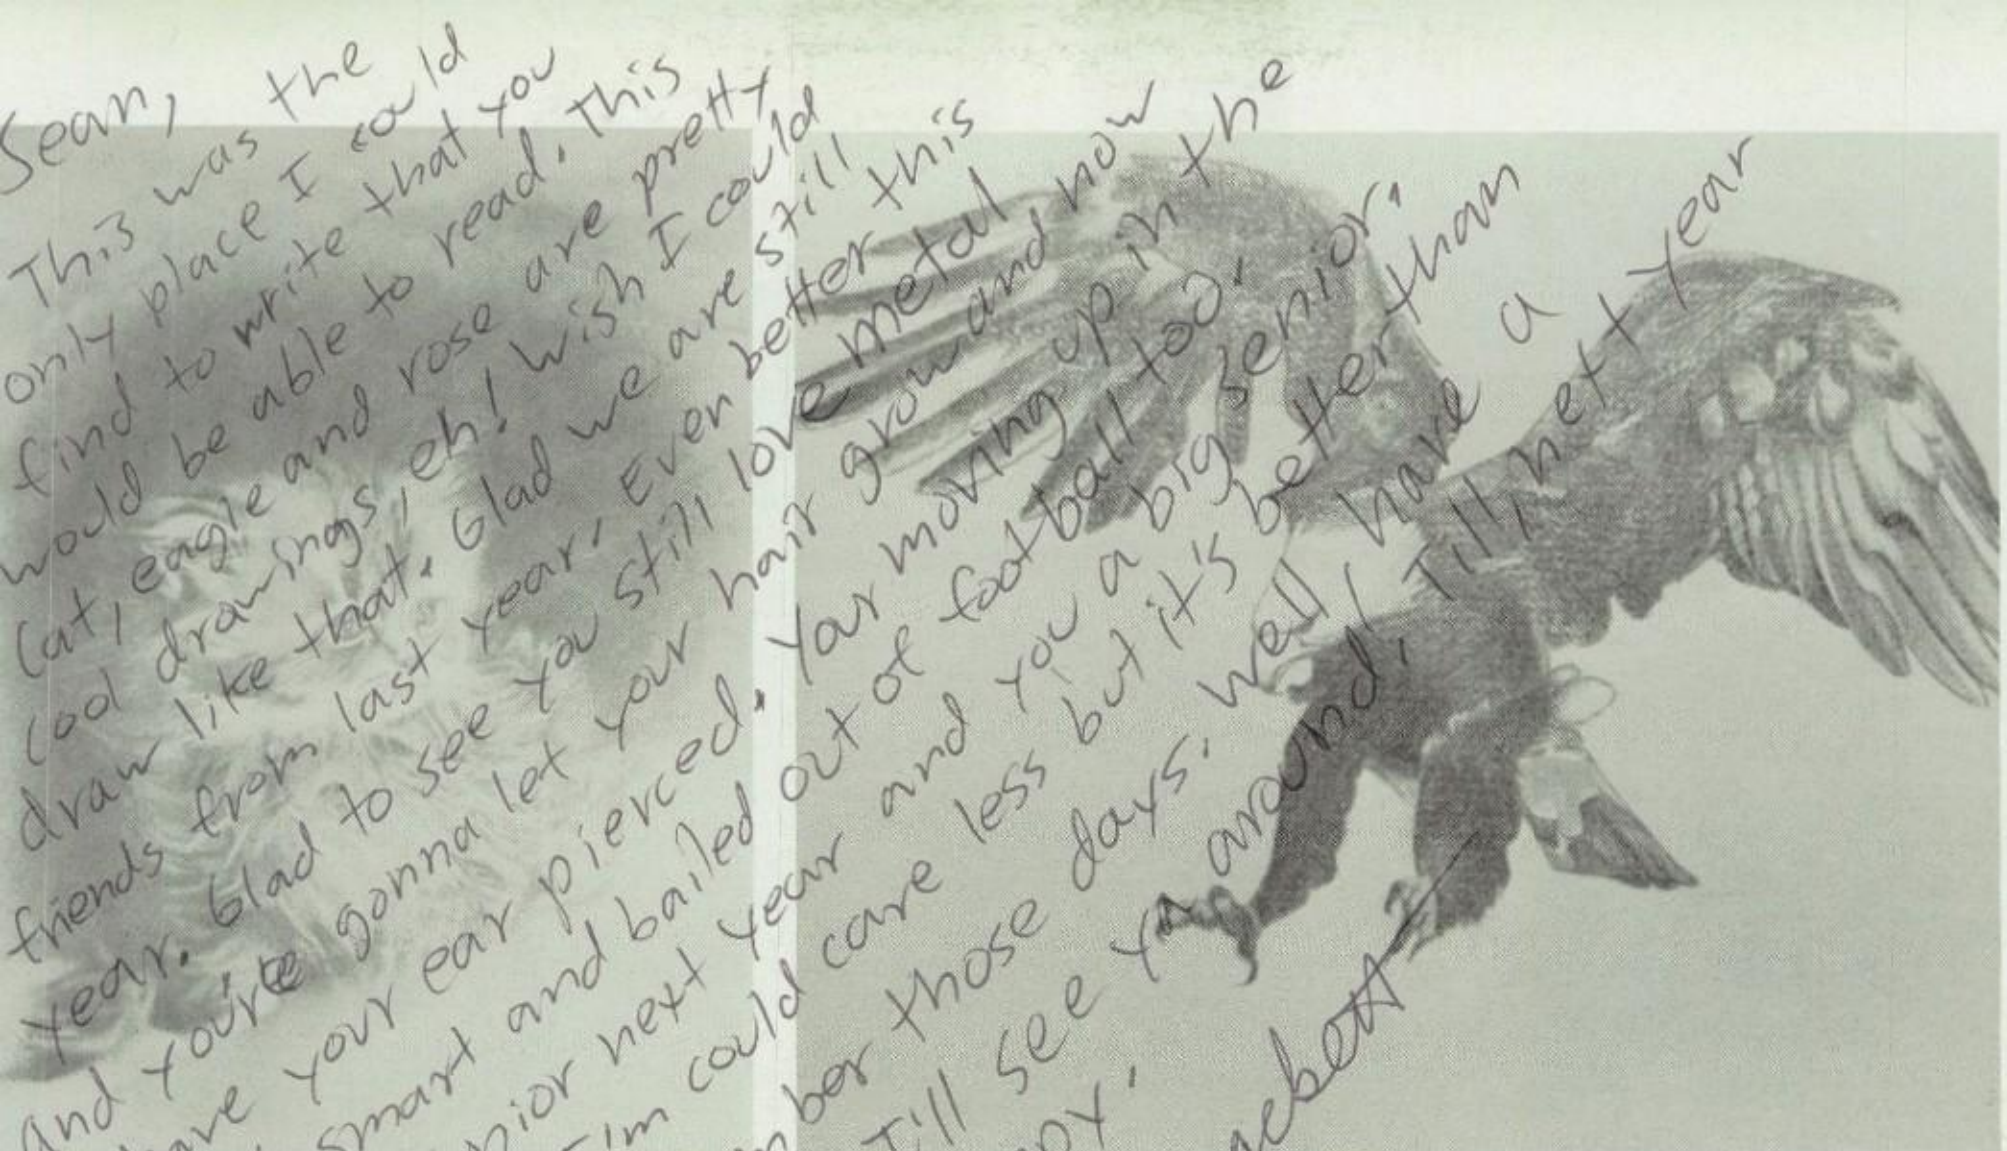

by Suzy Jones

Emmy Chang was said to be one of the best artists to ever attend Tustin High. She was a senior this past year, but she has been developing her talents for many years. Her friends and relatives realized that she possessed a special talent at a very early age. For her teachers, it only took one assignment to realize that Emmy possessed a unique gift. Emmy enjoys all forms of art from painting with water colors to pencil sketches. She said, "I don't favor one form over another." Emmy plans to attend the Fullerton State University. As yet, she is undecided as to what field she will use her artistic talent in. Her talents will be surely missed by Tustin High.

Although the German Club is comprised of four, third year German students, it is destined to grow in the coming years. The German Club promoted an interest in German culture to all of the German classes. As they say in Germany, Bis Später!

AFS Promotes New Lifestyle

by Ken Starks

The American Field Service International Intercultural Program is a private, non-profit organization which promotes world understanding. Through an exchange program allowing students to study in foreign countries, as well as allowing foreign students to come to the U.S. attending schools, such as Tustin High. As club members we try to promote our lifestyle as well as learn about and accept other new lifestyles. There is much warmth within the AFS club which comes from the close intrapersonal relationships we all share. This year we have a total of eight applicants including Jon Mazur, Robert Kinder, Patty Rodriguez, Racheal Sorenson, Moli Burge, Mike Sherman, Josh Bricker, and Ken Starks. We would like to thank Ellen Berry and Gayle Barker for their devotion and support.

Asian Clubs: Preserve Culture

by Jane Kyung

Tustin High's Korean club was formed four years ago in order for Korean students to remember their own heritage and culture. Not only do they have various activities within school, such as candy sales, car washes, but they also get together with other Korean clubs from other school. There were sport tournaments, ice skating and dances with other schools. There was also an annual program called Parent's Night. Members prepared plays, songs and many other programs to perform to parents and friends.

The Vietnamese club was established in 1980. Our goal is to preserve the culture of our heritage, to promote friendship and scholarship. In order to achieve these goals, we have organized a high school conference at UCLA to encourage education. More over, as part of our goal, we help students who had trouble with school problems. We also organized various activities for our members such as picnics, parties, dances, celebrations of the traditional lunar New Year and the printing of the club's newspapers.

The school year of '86-'87 so far has been very exciting for our club. We feel a great sense of pride for being a part of Tustin High. The key to our success this year lies not only in the determination to fulfill our responsibilities but also in the support from Mr. Smith and from the club members.

Once again, the officer of the Vietnamese club wish to thank all the teachers and staff members and best wishes to everyone.

Art Club Plans Gallery

by Amy Christy

The Art Club offers students a place to use their artistic ability even if they are not enrolled in art classes.

Art Club member Steve Marsh thinks that the Art Club is fun, as well as a good learning experience. This is a feeling that is shared by many of the Art Club members.

In the near future, the Art Club hopes to be able to start their own gallery on the THS campus. They also held an art/pottery sale this year to provide funds for their goals.

Chess Club Continues Making Moves

by Tan Truong

The purpose of the Chess Club is to provide members with the opportunity of playing chess. As a recreational activity or as a competitive experience, Chess is a game in which we must use our mental abilities on making moves. When we play, we must make good use of our mind to understand the offensive and defensive strategy of the game. The chess club helps and shows one to make his moves, learn the pieces, figure out his mistakes and opening moves, and develop the ability to plan ahead strategically. Chess comes in many versions, speed chess, Siamese chess, and even Chinese chess. Chess is a game that we play by learning from our own mistakes as well as from those of others. It is not winning or losing, but how we play the game that really matters. Buena Park High, Foothill High, Saddleback High, Sunny Hills High, and Los Amigos High are some of the schools the chess club competed against in the school year of 86-87.

Flying A Smaller Version

Radio Control Club: Mr. Beck, Advisor, Van Johnson, Steve Zeal.

by Sean Killehua

The Radio Control (RC) Club was a club with about 6 active members during the '86-'87 year. The club was started by Mr. Beck and a few interested students in approximately 1981. "We teach the members how to build, and fly helicopters, and we show them what to buy," says Mr. Beck. "RC is the largest sport in the world with over 100,000 registered members in the U.S.," he added.

The THS RC club members were part of a club at the LTA helicopter base. On weekends they would go to the base and fly their miniture helicopters. They were also taught the safety aspects of flying. Memberships cost $40 for seniors and $25 for juniors. The fees helped pay for insurance, membership fee at LTA, and included an RC magazine.

CSF's leadership consists of its sponsors Mrs. Debbie Barret and Mrs. Anna Katsuki, it's president Lee Pooler, and executive board members Josh Bricker, Helen Fields, Julie James, and Mary Spellman. Besides community service activities, the club also raises funds to provide deserving seniors scholarships. Together, both the club's leaders and members have helped to form a successful club.

New Life Unites Members

by Tanya Lefevre

The 1986-87 New Life club brought Tustin High many new faces and new fun. Which included such activities as barbeques, skate parties and lockins. The club met every Friday at lunch to bring their members closer together, both in school and out of school. "The mutual love between the members and of Jesus Christ, our Lord, was shared throughout the club." Says Heather Walker, club president, "Hopefully next year will prove to be as fun and exciting as this one was."

Backpackers Hike Alot

by Pete Pakes

Have you ever been hiking before? Have you ever experienced the great outdoors in your own country? There is a group at this school that loves to do this at least once a month. This group is the Backpacking club. Mr. Rolfi, a civics teacher here at Tustin High, is the supervisor for this club. At this time there are approximately eight members and four of the eight are active. Some of the trips taken this year were to San Yeseito, the Gragonio. A one day trip was taken this summer to the Sierra Nevada Mountain Range. "It gets tiring but yet you learn a lot in the hike," says Sheldon Baker, who has gone on a number of hikes. Rod Kukla another club member says, "We also get to camp, which is an experience in itself." If you ever have the ambition to walk like an Egyptian, let Mr. Rolfi know.

Can you imagine being a knight and slaying a fire-breathing dragon? Well the guys in the Gaming club know what it's like. They are role-players. As role-players the player must assume the identity of his character.

These enthusiastic young men meet during lunch to play such games as "Advanced Dungeons and Dragons". The advisor, Mr. Taylor, believes the club is a good experience for the members as well as just plain fun.

The Key Club is an organization dedicated to both community and school service. It is a junior branch of the Tustin Kiwanis Club and is one of the few clubs which is recognized nationwide. Its volunteer work has included organizing a Red Cross blood drive to working with children during a Kiwanis sponsored vision screening activity. The president of the Key Club was David Kaufman, the vice-president was David Healy, the secretary was Eric Hook and the treasurer was Greg Uhler. Being such an exciting and rewarding club, the membership is constantly on the rise.

Winter Assembly Brings Good Cheer

"Santa Visits Tustin High"

This time of the year is the most exciting. Everyone waits upon the Winter Assembly, in order to find out who gets what. This year's highlight was Cathy Allard's wish to get a kiss from Duffy Clark. So of course he planted a huge kiss on her lips. Can you imagine what Dave Schlemmer thought?

Matt Lundin was blessed with being "bagged" for once in his life. Susan Marfleet played the piano. Jamie Dunn got clowned, and Leo Parker was a surprise date for the prom because this young man has never gone to a formal dance yet. Also two bands played, and Amy Aguilier sang a song by Sandi Patti.

The 1986-87 pep week began Tuesday, February 10th. This year's Pep Week was filled with fun activities, in which students displayed much school spirit. These events took place at snack and at lunch, which included a munch out, a twinkee feed, and a hanging donut game.

The final event was the all school assembly which took place in the gym, in which students participated in the following activities; waste basket tug-a-war, bobsled relay, kiss a slob. The senior class took first place in the class competition.

Our Sister School Visits Tustin

by Pam Delamater

This year Tustin High has started a new tradition. We have adopted a sister school from Taiwan, The Keelung School for girls.

This was arranged for us by Mrs. Joann Beard.

The Keelung School for girls is run very differently than Tustin High is run. We found this out when the Keelung School Orchestra came to visit Tustin High on February 4, 1987. Unlike Tustin High, the Keelung School has no extracurricular activities whatsoever. No dances, athletic games, or special events outside of the normal classroom routine. They did many things while they were visiting Tustin. First they went to the ASB room where a reception was held for them by the school Senate, then from 8:30 to 9:30 they were given tours of the campus and allowed to visit some of the classrooms while they were in session.

They then went to the Little Theatre where they practiced until they gave their orchestral performance at 10:30. After the performance was over they went to the ASB room for a pizza lunch. At the end of the day they went to the Varsity Basketball game against Saddleback.

Just before they started their performance in the Little Theatre, Mrs. Lynch and Principal Ho Hsu, Jui Tao signed a pac. In the pac they agreed to encourage greater international, intercultural and interethnic awareness and understanding. To expose students and teachers to the cultural heritages and accomplishments of both Chinese and American cultures. To plan campus visits and sharing of student and teacher skills and talents. The English Departments of both schools will encourage pen-pals, we will exchange school yearbooks, and information regarding each school's special activities, student clubs and organizations, student and teacher achievements, recognition in sports, music, art, science, math, and other academics. In meeting the agreements the Principal of Keelung Girl's High School initiated the sister school relationship by visiting Tustin High in February 1987, with a group of music students who performed traditional Chinese music for the teachers and students of Tustin High. In addition to this, the Keelung School will provide classroom space and a teacher for Tustin students who wish to visit Republic of China, and Tustin High will do the same for Chinese students who wish to visit America. Visiting groups to both schools will be encouraged to form friendships and to be young ambassadors of goodwill sharing their culture, talents and interests with their sister school students and families.

1. APPLAUDING STUDENTS — Principal Ho Hsu, Jui Tao and translator We Pei Ti applaud the performance by their students.

Air Guitar '87'

by Pam Delamater

For the past three years Tustin High has been putting on their own version of "Puttin on The Hits", which we call Air Guitar. We usually give a special assembly during school for Air Guitar, but this year we did something a little different. This year we had a special Air Guitar concert in the evening at 7:30 in the gym on Tuesday March 31. The show lasted an hour and consisted of many Tustin High students dressed up as their favorite singers and lip syncing to their favorite songs. Not only is Air Guitar fun, but it is also a good investment. There are cash prizes. $200 for 1st place, $150 for 2nd place, and $100 for 3rd place. This year's winners were James Brown for 1st place singing "Living in America". The group consisted of Scott Feldman, Greg Morales, Matt Lundin, Helen Feilds, Pete Pakes, Andy Chi, Rog Middleton, and Bill Verge. The Shouters won 2nd place singing "Shout". The group consisted of Keri Sutcliff, Jolie Peckham, Julie Kettering, Melissa Northway, and Patty Rodriguez. 3rd place was Stryper singing "The Way". This group was portrayed by Tony Cena, Sean Reagin, Sean Gutridge, and Chad Sullivan. Other groups who participated in Air Guitar '87 were ZZ Top, The Righteous Brothers, Madonna, Cinderella, Essence, Peter Gabriel, Sisters' of Respect, Ladies in Motion, and The Cherry Boyz Production. Air Guitar has become a fun and exciting experience for Tustin High Students that we hope will become a tradition for many years to come.

Magic Theatre

by Kevin Dorn

As I walked into the Tustin High Little Theatre, I knew something was up. At least a billion little kids were running about, finding their seats, and making a bit of noise.

Looking for a seat to land myself in, I spotted my eight-year old sister, there to see the play. I found a seat as the lights dimmed. It's a good thing as moments later there were actors bounding in through the doors and running down the aisles.

The actors kept the energy level at a feverish pitch, keeping the kids squealing in delight. Tim McFarlen romped about like a roaring lion and other actors took advantage of the 12ft. slide set on the stage.

Amid the chaos in the theatre, the actors gave the audience something to hang on to. They let the kids know it was all right to be different. They said, "It's O.K. to be yourself."

As the play ended I rushed out the door to beat the flood of munchkins also trying to leave.

People

And In The Center Ring . . . Kay Goodman

by Michele Nicks and Kevin Hargrove

This year's dedication goes to a very deserving teacher here at Tustin High. When registering for one of her classes, if you're not one of the first in line, you may as well forget it because Kay Goodman is no doubt one of the most popular teachers here on campus.

Mrs. Goodman was born in a small town by the name of Buffalo Lake, Minnesota. When she was young, she traveled as a performer with her uncle Jay Gould and his circus.

In college, at St. Paul Minnesota, Mrs. Goodman debated with the best of them including ex-presidential candidate Walter "Fritz" Mondale. She also acted in several school plays and wrote songs, one of which, MOON MADNESS, became the theme for their senior dance.

Mrs. Goodman wanted to be in the theatre, but at the last minute she decided on a teaching career. The sudden change of heart seems to have had no effect on Mrs. Goodman. In fact she says, "It's fine with me, I have a captive audience now; they have to listen!! What a way to make a living! I love it!" She must love it, she has been at it for thirty years. She has taught several subjects such as, P.E., Basketball, Cheer, Drama/Speech, and now English and Literature.

Mrs. Goodman says she, "Wouldn't trade any of her thirty years of teaching for any other work in any other field." She adds, "It's the kids — the kids have always been special — they're what makes a school special, God bless them!"

Well Mrs. Goodman, we here at Tustin High think you are a very special and vital part of our Tustin Family. From when we first entered the doors of your room, your cheerful smile and skilled knowledge touched our hearts and left fond memories of you on our minds. Thanks for your patience and understanding for all of these years — God bless!

1. A STAR IS BORN — crazy antics have always been a part of Mrs. Goodman's characteristics.
2. SMILES ABOUND — as seen through the faces of some of Mrs. Goodman's students, room 110 is definitely the place to be.

3. FLASH FROM THE PAST! Mrs. Goodman during her first year of teaching.
4. SWAPPIN' STORIES- Mrs. Goodman and Mr. Hudspeth discuss the days events.
5. OOOH! Mrs. Goodman gets into her story telling.
6. SAY CHEESE- The "Goodman Grin" is a familiar sight on campus.
7. THE BIG CATCH! Mrs. Goodman shows off her catch as she takes advantage of some time off from school.

Administration

The 1986-87 year has proven to be a very exciting one for Tustin High and I have been proud to be part of it. As we have faced the triumphs and challenges, I am particularly appreciative of the support from teachers, staff, students and parents.

I began the year in July by seeing several new teachers, two new assistant principals, a new band director and a new activities director. The many new faces brought lots of new energy and I'm pleased with all they've accomplished this year. From the thrill of our winning football program, to the crowning of the kings and queens, to the OCAD competitions, this has been a great year.

My thanks and best wishes to the Class of '87- You have been a special part of my life for four years. Take care!

Mrs. Peggy Lynch

Peggy Lynch, who is currently our principal at Tustin High, has spent 12 years enthusiastically supporting the Tustin High student body. She was born in Trenton, New Jersey where she graduated from Steinert High School. Mrs. Lynch then attended Parsons College in Fairfield, Iowa. There she received a Bachelor's Degree in English and received a minor in social science. In 1968, she married Ed Lynch, and a year later they moved to California. Her teaching career began at Columbus Tustin Intermediate School in 1970. In 1975 she began to teach at Tustin High. She taught English, journalism, and was the ASB advisor from 1977-1979. After the summer of 1979 Mrs. Lynch was promoted to assistant principal. Her hard work and dedication paid off when she was made principal in 1984. One thing she likes most about her job, is working with teenagers and teachers. What she dislikes, though, is the accumulative paperwork. Her favorite tv shows are: Hill Street Blues and The Cosby Show. Her favorite color is red. Her favorite movie is: A Thousand Clowns; and her favorite actor and actress is Robert Redford and Shirley MacLaine. For recreation Mrs. Lynch enjoys reading and playing sports, such as basketball.

Bob Boise-Had been a history teacher for 8 years, but because he likes to put his ideas into action with the result of seeing positive attitudes by both students and teachers, he became an assistant principal just this year. He is concerned about the future of our school and supports all activities. Some of the things he enjoys doing are reading, gardening, golfing and playing tennis.

Duffy Clark-has been working as assistant principal at Tustin High for a year and a half. His hobbies are surfing and photography, he likes the T.V. show Family Ties and his favorite color is blue. He says he likes working with people and it certainly shows, he is well liked here at Tustin.

Brad Lantz-Prior to becoming our assistant principal this year Mr. Brand Lantz has also been our band director, he has spent most of his years teaching social science, and last year he was our activities director. In these 21 years of his career he enjoys working with the students the most. Some of Mr. Lantz's hobbies consist of golf, law enforcement, Big Band Jazz music, and steam trains. He used to be an engineer for the Disneyland train. Mr. Lantz also used to drive an armored Brinks truck.

Anna Katsuki-Has been in education for 13 years. She taught at Gahr High School before coming to Tustin High School. Anna has been a counselor for 3 years. Prior to this she taught. She is also the CSF advisor. She enjoys attending school functions, such as football. During her free time, she enjoys traveling with her husband, working out at the spa, reading by the pool, or going to the beach.

Peter Kellner-Has been involved in teaching for 14 years. Mr. Kellner has been a teacher in special education, science and in drivers training. He takes pride in Tustin high school, and in his job as a counselor. . . . He enjoys the interaction with the students, traveling, and computer science. Mr. Kellner spends free time with his wife, and family.

All work and no play makes a better person-as Mr. Kellner proves this saying by being an excellent counselor.

Ken Wiedemann has been at Tustin High for 5 years. His first goal of becoming a professional athlete didn't materialize and he returned to graduate school earning an M.S. in counseling. Ken Wiedemann enjoys skiing, tennis, chess and bridge. He enjoys working with students and faculty but he dislikes the paper work.

Gene O'Toole is a very special counselor at Tustin high who really puts a lot into his profession. Although he first set out to become a lawyer he does not regret the job he has at Tustin. Mr. O'Toole feels, "high school students are easier to deal with than the general adult population." He also added, with a smile, and a sparkle in his eyes, "I enjoy explaining — I enjoy crusading for causes I believe are important to the next generation — and I enjoy stressing values such as honesty, hard work, success, growth, and change." Counseling is a tough job, but with people like O'Toole Tustin High can be a great place to be. Outside of school Mr. O'Toole is very active especially in community related jobs. For fourteen years he has been active in City Council, as well as school board elections in Irvine. He also participates in, "Irvine To-morrow". At U.C.I. he is on the Advisory Board for Public Schools, in Orange County. Mr. O'Toole and his wife Joan enjoy traveling, and hope someday to go to Europe. Besides travel he enjoys music, cycling, tennis, reading and cooking. It's great to know there is a person who can be highly looked up to, a person who cares about what happens to our future generation, and someone who can honestly say, "I love people, and I love ideas." You can find this person at Tustin High his name is Gene O'Toole.

Mrs. Good- has been teaching at Tustin High for 19 years. She teaches English, Psychology and Sociology and finds teaching so much more rewarding when students are interested in what they are learning. In her free time she likes to read, garden and do needlework.

Kay Goodman- What a lady! Singing, dancing, camping, and fishing are a few of the things Mrs. Goodman enjoys. But at the top of her list is teaching, which she has been doing for the last 30 years. What else would you do if you grew up in a family of teachers? If you want to get on Mrs. Goodman's good side, you could try finding the T-top to her car. It flew off one morning on the way to school, and she hasn't seen it since. If that doesn't work, you could try getting her some See's Chocolates, Australian Lobster Tail, a Frank Sinatra album, or a new Bible. But even without any of those, you won't find it hard to get on her good side. 'cause it's hard to get on her bad side.

Mrs. Pam Gray- Pam Gray is the reading and writing lab teacher here at Tustin High and has been for the last two years. When asked what she liked most about her job, she replied with a smile, "The students." Outside of school, she enjoys photography and basketball and the taste of Mexican food.

1. Funny Farm- Mr. Sheehy gives English a new name fun! Look at the expression on Dolores Mercury's face!
2. Looking humored- Mr. Woods is engaged in reading a note, probably another student's stupid excuse.

Mr. Harrington is an English teacher here at Tustin and as he stated has been at it for a "long, long time!" He originally graduated from Tustin High and decided after several previous teaching jobs to return to Tustin "to see what it was really like." In his moments of free time he enjoys playing golf, working jig saw puzzles or just plain relaxing.

Roger Linderman has been teaching at Tustin High for many years. The subjects he teaches are Advanced Composition, Modern American Novel and Sophomore English. Roger enjoys watching professional football and baseball games. His favorite football team is the Denver Broncos. Overall, his favorite pastime is telling a good joke. In the summer Roger travels to Crete.

Mr. McSparren is a teacher who cannot be accused of being "wishy-washy" or a "push over" or any of those kinds of terms. He is a teacher who keeps good discipline in his class and does his job well. Speaking from experience, he is strict but not overwhelmingly so as to dislike him. I respect him for his ability to control wild teenagers and his mastery of his subject, mythology.

Dan Sheehy - Former Tiller baseball coach and one of eleven brothers and sisters, Dan Sheehy teaches sports, literature and English I.

1. Here's a wild pair - Mr. Linderman and his pal Buffy go over grades.
2. Looking chipper - Mr. McSparren prepares for his lecture.

1. Mr. Taylor. "Why is it wrong?"-Mr. Taylor explains the situation to a student.
2. Mrs. Sleeper. has a grin as she knows it's Friday.

Carl Sims. Once upon a time there was a little boy named Carl. At the suggestion of another boy, little Carl hid in a pile of leaves. Then the other lit the leaves on fire, with little Carl inside. The reason Carl grew up to be a teacher was to warn students from being so glibble. Stories like this and plenty more are all part of the Mr. Sims experience. 24 years in the field, a dog named "Poli", and a vast knowledge of English and American literature make his teaching among the best. If you haven't already, try one of Mr. Sims' classes, and make sure you bring along some ice cream, Mocha Almond Fudge, it's his favorite.

Lindlee Sims has been in the Tustin District for 18 years. Mrs. Sims came into teaching because she enjoyed school herself, plus loving to read and travel. Mrs. Sims says, "teaching allows me to use my imagination." Some of her hobbies are; golfing, knitting, reading, and travel.

Mrs. Sleeper- has been teaching for 23 years, 20 of those years have been spent at Tustin High. She enjoys teaching because she believes for every individual the development of the mind is the most important thing of all and she wants to be a part of that. Mrs. Sleeper chose english because it was the only subject that dealt with all human concerns. Mrs. Sleeper enjoys reading, traveling, hiking and spending time at her mountain cabin. One of Mrs. Sleepers favorite things about T.H.S. is the students and the fact that it's a wonderful place to teach. She also has tremendous loyalty to Tustin High (who wouldn't after 20 years??).

John Sorensen- A great teacher in his own way. He teaches differently than any other teacher. He teaches imagination in writing, Bible and English (sophomore). He enjoys band, he taught band in a church for a number of years and loves students company.

English

Hank Woods is an English teacher at Tustin and has been at it for 13 years. He originally commuted to West Covina for a teaching job and found it tiresome due to the fact that it was so far away from home. Relief came when Mr. Woods was hired at Tustin as a football coach; he's been here ever since. Mr. Woods says he enjoys working with young men and women in an intellectual atmosphere but sometimes finds it hard to do so in the busyness of his classrooms. Weight lifting, reading, running, and swimming are among the other activities Mr. Woods enjoys. "Recently," he says, "I have been interested in American History . . . I've been reading about Thomas Jefferson." Mr. Woods has two young children and admits it's difficult to find spare time. This may be difficult for some of us to understand since he devotes so much time to his students. Thanks Mr. Woods for all your time and devotion directed towards Tustin High, we appreciate it.

"Oh no, it's Monday!" Mrs. Sims writes the day's schedule on the board.

Rayner Taylor-Left Oklahoma seeking fame and fortune in Southern California. He found his fame and his fortune in education. Mr. Taylor has been in the United States Naval Reserve for 22 years. Photography, traveling, and observing the growth of his boys and family, are Mr. Taylor's hobbies. He is a respected teacher, who is looked up to and is admired by his students and co-workers.

Paul Whitelock-He has been teaching for 23 years. His hobbies are hunting, fishing, flying and scuba diving. What he likes most about teaching is helping students and watching them learn new things that will help them later in life. He dislikes seeing students who will not even try if it is the least bit difficult and are therefore letting the world pass them by.

Dan Sheehy lives in San Clemente with his wife, Martha, and two sons. Dan, himself, is a sibling of 11 other brothers and sisters; all of which have names beginning with the letter "D". Dan was a former Varsity baseball and freshman football coach for 10 years. He enjoys snowskiing, waterskiing, and playing golf. His favorite things about teaching at Tustin are: intellectual stimulation, youthful enthusiasm and optimism. He dislikes: apathy, interruptions, and the "It's not my fault" syndrome.

Duane Carlsen-- Math teacher, used to teach woodshop at Tustin H.S.

Dr. Bruce Peterson: "Doc"? Who is "Doc"? Well, Dr. Peterson really is a certified P.H.D., teaching biology at Tustin High. He's been teaching for 20 years from jr. high to the university level, including a brief period in prison (teaching, not doing time). I was wondering what was happening in Dr. Peterson's life, so I asked him: "What's up Doc?" "WKRP, black licorice, William Faulkner, ice cream, politics, football and Beethoven," was his quick reply. If you've never been in one of Doc's classes, you should. He likes to relate a lot of stories and jokes to liven things up. "Look at that S-car go!"

Roy Wiegand: A teacher who got into teaching because of summer vacation is Mr. Wiegand personafied. The reason she likes her job so much is because of the change and variety it involves. Her hobbies are playing and coaching soccer, and reading. The Cosby show, the color red, chocolate, and the movie Top Gun are some of her favorites. The one thing she hates is being confined to a desk all day.

Business

Betty Schaff lives in San Clemente with her husband Alie, who is the head football coach at San Clemente High, and their spoiled Airdale Jake. They live on the edge of the sand on San Clemente Beach in a Spanish style house that Mrs. Schaff and her husband designed and built by themselves. Before Mrs. Schaff came to teach at Tustin High she taught for three years in Pennsylvania, three years in Arizona, and taught at Montebello High, near Whittier, for nine and a half years. She has been at Tustin High for thirteen years now, and currently works in the computer department, and is Chairperson of the Business department. Mrs. Schaff and her husband enjoy waterskiing, and just recently bought a motor boat, and a motorhome. They plan to travel across the country in their motorhome sometime in the near future. Mrs. Schaff enjoys watching "Who's The Boss" on Tuesday nights at eight o'clock. Her favorite movie is "The Color Of Money" which stars her favorite actor, Paul Newman. We all love and appreciate Mrs. Schaff, and hope she is here for many years to come.

Mrs. Wood takes a minute for the Audion photographer.

Mrs. Barbara Wood has been teaching for 26 years. She dislikes "the attitude of 70% of our kids and the lack of discipline". Mrs. Wood enjoys crossword puzzles, spectator football, and needle point. Mrs. Wood says "there are very precious students that are a joy to teach and to have in the classroom. I try to dwell on them and forget the rowdies and those who don't want to learn."

Life Skills

Vickie Flemming was hired in September of 1974 at Tustin High and has been teaching here for 12 years. Prior to being hired at Tustin, Vickie had just finished her student teaching at Mission Viejo High and was eager to begin a fulltime job. Vickie says she enjoys teaching because it is "a learning experience of lasting value." Her hobbies are art, music and community activities.

Tim O'Brien feels that "observing the different attitudes of other teachers and students, is the most positive aspect of his job." He enjoys keeping fit and coaching the boys Varsity Basketball team. For 11 years as a teacher he still desires to learn more about kids and their attitudes.

Bonnie Smith has been teaching for nineteen years. She teaches child development and clothing. She loves kids but hates policing students that don't want to work. Her hobbies are raising and showing shelties, and occasionally judging dog shows. She's a Christian and is very family orientated.

Mrs. Agsoay is a Spanish teacher at Tustin High. You can tell that she is very dedicated to her job, because she gets up early every morning and drives to school all the way from Westwood. Now that's a dedicated teacher!

Mrs. Berry's main goal was to become a teacher and, indeed, she became one. She has been teaching English and Latin for sixteen years at Tustin High School. Mrs. Berry enjoys teaching because each class is like meeting a new personality. She also has a chance to influence and relate with students in a positive way. The thing she dislikes the most is when students don't work to their fullest capacities. Mrs. Berry also enjoys reading. Her favorite book is Heart of Darkness. She enjoys doing aerobics and being with her dogs. Her favorite food is steamed vegetables.

Mr. Brown - Hablo Espanol? If your looking for an English class, you better look down the hall. Mr. Brown is dedicated to teaching Spanish. When not breezing through Spanish, Mr. Brown likes to read science fiction or maybe watch a Harrison Ford flick. Mr. Brown has been in the sunny state of California for a while, attending Long Beach and San Jose State, then teaching for 20 years.

Marilyn Lusk - teacher, comedian, kid (at heart), and a great artist in the field of stick figures. If you could see her stick people during a lesson you'd die laughing. At school and after school, Mrs. Lusk is just one of the gang; she's a real "jokester." Her first love is the French language and she is fluent in it. It's a good thing too because she's a French teacher. You could see her at every football and basketball game. What a "Ra Ra." When she goes home she likes to read or listen to rhythm & blues (soul) and to play with her fido-puppy, "Gigolo." Seventeen and one half years ago Mrs. Lusk gave up trying to become an actress/comedian to become a teacher. She has absolutely no regrets about it because she truly loves her job and her students.

He enjoys reading Time magazine, eating pizza, and listening to classical music. He says his favorite book is "The one I'm reading now," and his favorite car is "The one that runs." This is Mr. Smith showing his humorous side.

Jerry Spivey teaches French and ESL. This past year he has become Head Coach of both boys and girls tennis. He is an avid tennis player himself. Being a French teacher he enjoys French cuisine and visiting France which he has done a few times. Jerry loves to sail boats in his spare time and has organized a sailing club.

Miss Sara Smith is an art teacher here at Tustin High. She started teaching thirty years ago in Michigan where she was born and lived until she moved to California. She went to Cal State Long Beach to get her M.A. in drawing and painting. She landed a teaching job in Tustin and has been here ever since. Outside of teaching her hobbies are camping, traveling, and music. Her favorite T.V. show is Moonlighting and she likes the movie "On Golden Pond". Her favorite sport is swimming, her favorite color is blue. The thing she likes best about teaching is watching her students progress in art skills and concepts.

Mr. Boucher is an art and ceramics teacher at Tustin High. The most demanding part of his job is putting together the school Audion. It is very time consuming and it takes time away from what he likes best. These things are spending time with his family, watching his favorite football team, USC, collecting tropical butterflies, growing tropical fruit and palms and going to the beach.

Lisa Roseman is our drama instructor and also an English teacher here at Tustin High. Some of the thespian's efforts in the past have won many awards and Mrs. Roseman has been a big part of the success of the student-actors. This year drama has worked on many different projects and has been successful this year as in years past.

Mr. Howard Dudley Started teaching twenty years ago, due to the memories left at Compton High School. This inspired and brought him in to teaching into the public school system. Prior to this Mr. Dudley was involved with the Army Reserve, for 27 years. Raising fruit trees and repairing items, or starting projects to see how long it takes to learn how to do it, are some of Mr. Dudley's hobbies, which he does in his spare time.

Coach Boyd Philpot- Being a substitute teacher and coaching the 1979 girls swim team, Boyd Philpot naturally was a prime candidate for a teaching position. That was seven and a half years ago and today it is the fitness instruction and coaching of the competitive aquatic teams that compel him to continue teaching. Yet, being a person in search of more than academia, he does not waste a chance to play the piano, surf the waves, or collect a few records. There is more to life than school and grade books. Coach was a college All-American in Water Polo at UCI.

Coach Tom Coffey-has been at T.H.S. for 14 years, during this time he has become well known as a cross country coach having coached many championship teams. He attended Flux X High School in Downey, Ca., but didn't become interested in coaching until he got into college when he helped a friend form and coach a team. Coach Coffey enjoys prim rib, soft rock music, and watching James Bond movies. When it comes to T.V., he likes to watch football games and Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous. Coach Coffey's favorite hobby, when time permits, is driving his race boat. He also enjoys driving his Corvette. Coach Coffey likes all sports which is one of the things that makes him a good coach. Coach Coffey and his wife Joan live in Huntington Beach with their 2 sons, Tom Jr. 8 and Tim 6. The family also includes 3 dogs and 1 cat.

She and her husband have a restaurant in Newport Beach where she spends a great deal of time during her weekends and summer. Mrs. Holub Runs Home For Deprived Students Who other than uberman could, during an average school day, not only treat and deal with elementary school children, but also commute so as to treat and care for the Tustin High School community. Mrs. Holub, our school nurse, is such a person, and she is qualified to treat the different illnesses, injuries, and other medical problems associated with everyday attendance or absence to academia. She said, "It's always a challenge and never routine or boring."

In September of 1964, when her three daughters were younger and her husband was involved in education, the position as school nurse seemed a convenient job that would allow her to perform her nursing duties as well as allow her ample time to be home with her daughters. Her experience in the emergency room of a hospital qualified her for the position. Along with her occupation as nurse, mother, and wife, she still finds time to read, cook, and travel.

Over the past several years, Mrs. Holub and Mrs. Lynch have been providing and working with students who have experienced various difficulties as a result of domestic differences. As plans developed, and as a result of generous private funding and many hours of work, the dream of establishing a home for deprived, district children has become a reality. As of November 17, 1986, five out of six beds in a four bedroom, 24 hour a day staffed North Tustin home, are being occupied free of charge by students from the Tustin Unified District.

Although as individuals, we might not be directly effected by such a home, we should nevertheless be very grateful not only for the couple who staff the house, but for Mrs. Holub. It is Mrs. Holub's care and concern towards those around her that further strengthens and provides great meaning to the statement- Together We Make It Happen! The Tustin High "epidemic" (of winning) must be treated but not cured.

Staff

Steve Roderick has been our activities director for only a year and thus far enjoys being a part of all the school spirit. He enjoys jogging, outdoor activities, travel, and spending time with his kids.

Mrs. Trueblood is Tustin High's librarian. She has been at Tustin for 20 years. She says "When my own two children reached high school age, I decided that I needed a career of my own and I went back to college to get a minor in library science and a teaching certificate."

Mr. Ralph Welsh a work experience teacher has been teaching in the Tustin school system for over twenty years. His hobby is reading, his favorite sport is baseball. He likes classical and western music and his favorite book is the Bible. The thing he likes most about teaching is the opportunity to help influence growing adults. Mr. Welsh used to be mayor of Tustin.

Mr. White has been with T.H.S. for several years. He has been teaching and coaching for twenty-six years and has been with work experience for four years. Mr. White first came to admire his job when he was in high school, he looked up to his high school coaches and teachers and wanted to become one himself which he is today. Mr. White's hobbies are chess, photography, but his main interest is golf. He also enjoys watching the Laker's games and his favorite animal is a dog. Hopefully, Mr. White will stay for another twenty-six years or more. He has been great to T.H.S. and the students love him.

Jeff Winneke is the plant manager of Tustin High. He attended Tustin High School all four years and he graduated in 1967. Why did he pick the field of custodial work? He likes building and he likes the responsibility. He worked at Dana Hills High School for eight years. Then when he heard of an opening as Plant Manager at his old high school Tustin High, he came here to be loyal to his school. Jeff Winneke has a ten year old son who attends Rancho San Joaquin. In his spare time, Jeff likes to watch all different sports and play basketball. Jeff Winneke's favorite thing to do is to record movies off of TV, and keep up to date on the latest films. He has a collection of some one hundred movies for his V.C.R. Jeff Winneke just loves his job here at Tustin High School.

Activities Bring Class Closer Together

Our first week as Freshmen was confusing and frightening, but most of all exciting. We found ourselves meeting new people, new demands and new challenges. Our greatest challenge was discovering who we were and what we planned to accomplish at Tustin High.

As the year progressed we gained confidence in ourselves and began to participate in the many programs that took place on campus. Our school this past year has offered us an opportunity to take part in academic, athletic and social activities. These activities have brought our class closer together. The class of '90 has shown a great sense of pride at Tustin High, and are proud to be Tillers.

Vanity Kills

by Greg Morales

What time do you wake up? 7:30 to get to school by 8:00, 6:35 to get to school by 7:00, 7:15 to get to school by 8:00. Boys, what time do you get up? 5:00 to get to school by 7:00, 6:00 to get to school by 8:00, 5:30 to get to school by 8:00. Girls, Girls, Girls. You are going to lose so many hours of sleep that in doing so you, you are going to lose days of your life. So don't worry if your Natural Wonder lip stick or Revlon Eye Shadow or Hair Spray is not applied just perfectly because it will not matter when it is too late. Remember Vanity Kills-it doesn't pay the bills. For the few boys who get up at 6:00 to be at school at 8:00, for your sake, I hope you are just watching cartoons.

Oh! Oh! Oh! Vanity

S.W.A.K.

by Suzy Jones

It is a syndrome that is commonly known to Freshmen. It's called the first kiss. Your date's dad is driving you two home from the movies. You sit with sweaty palms in the back seat of your date's car. His dad is questioning you about the movie you just saw, but all the while you are worried about the alluring kiss goodnight. Finally the moment arrived when you pulled up in front of your house. But, oh no, your mom left the porch light on and he couldn't kiss you goodnight in fear that his dad might see you. So the all important first kiss is saved for the following Monday when his football practice and your tennis practice ended at the same time. The two of you slowly walked off toward your locker hand in hand while the football team makes remarks. You opened your locker and acted like you were doing something important. Neither of you knew who should make the first move. Finally, he does and you have experienced a peck on your lips that you called your first kiss. The moment will forever be remembered in your mind. Both Lisa Golka and Sara Lundy remember that special moment. Lisa said, "My first kiss was Winter Formal my freshman year with Frank Ser-rao and we are still seeing each other." Sara said, "My first kiss as a freshman was at the Wedge in Newport Beach."

Don't Laugh, You Had To Do It Once Too!

by Suzy Jones

Did the parking lot look like the start of the Tour de France this year? A bicycle was one of the most prominent forms of transportation for students in the Freshmen class. There are almost more bikes parked in the bike racks than there are cars in the parking lot. But if you were smart juniors and seniors you wouldn't laugh at those Freshmen riding their bikes. Think of all of the advantages riding a bike offers, while you were in your car gaining weight, they were burning off calories and as you waited in the long line to get out of the parking lot, the bicycles buzzed by you. But bicycling to school did have its disadvantages. Senior Helen Fields remembered, "The days when it was freezing cold and by the time I got to school my hands were numb." Ted Kim also had a bad experience riding his bike, he said, "When it's raining and you ride your bike and by the time I got home there was a black line down my back." But it seems that the advantages outweigh the disadvantages. So the next time you pass by a bicyclist don't try to run them over, think about trying it yourself.

Over Crowding. A picture of the bike racks proves that a lot of students ride their bikes to school.

Super Girls

by Suzy Jones

It was Superbowl XXI, but they were not playing in the game, they were performing at it. It all started when 1,200 people from California auditioned and 350 were picked. Among those 350, three girls from Tustin High were picked. They were Jennifer Wade, Laura Frazier, and Kristy Edling. They performed a dance routine in the pre-game show with Neil Diamond and the Beach Boys. The NFL paid for their costumes and accessories. Each participant was allowed to keep their costume. The pre-game show was televised on nation wide TV. After the game, the NFL treated the entire group to a party. Jennifer Wade was very enthusiastic about the experience. She said, "This was my first experience auditioning and dancing in a professional show. Although it took away a lot of time and was a lot of hard work, I really looked forward to it and had a lot of fun!"

NFL Stars- Jennifer Wade, Kristy Edling, and Laura Frazer became Stars in the Superbowl Pre-Game show.

Vanna Turn Me A Letter

by Suzy Jones

Recently two Tustin High students appeared on two nationally syndicated game shows. Jeff Bos appeared on Wheel of Fortune and Paul Egendorf appeared on Jeopardy. It involved a couple days of taping and a lot of nerves. Both Jeff and Paul agreed that it was much easier to play at home than it was to play on the actual show. Jeff won a handful of promotional prizes. He received everything from a year's supply of Rice-A-Roni to a watch. Paul faired a little better. He won five thousand dollars for his second place finish. Paul Egendorf said about his experience on Jeopardy Teen Week "I'm looking forward to playing the real thing". Jeff's fondest memory of his experience was meeting Vanna White. That is something most guys would not mind doing.

TV Stars- Jeff Bos and Paul Egendorf certainly are not camera shy after appearing on game shows this past year.

A Quest For Excellence

by Michelle Martin

Karen Paulitschek has been swimming for 9 years. She swims for SoCal and for Tustin High. Her workout begins at 5:15 sharp and ends at 7:30, and then back for more at 4:00 until 7:00.

In the Summer of 1984 Karen went to the Junior Nationals and received a 7th place in the 200 meter Butterfly. She also placed first in the 100 butterfly with a time of 58.95 in a Q meet in East L.A. In 1985 she placed 5th in CIF. Karen was selected to swim in the North vs. South Dual Meet in January of 1985.

Karen's favorite stroke is the Butterfly in which she holds the school record with a time of 58.56. When I asked Karen why she swims she replied, "I enjoy it and even though it's a lot of work at times it's really fun!"

Swimmer. Karen Paulitschek shows us her determination to be the best she can be.

Skateboarding-A Fun Way To Go

by Sean Killehua

It is not just a sport, it's an adventure. To a large portion of adults and non-skaters, it is a menace; an extreme danger and a hazard to everyone around. To an extent this is true but not as the extreme it's made out to be. The main problem is that the non-skater doesn't understand the thrill of skating.

Skating serves only one purpose; to have fun. But, what is so fun about rolling around on a piece of plywood? Put that way, nothing. When one lets loose his creative mind and all the energy and capabilities of the human body, riding a skateboard takes on new dimensions.

With all the new maneuvers invented on skateboards, skating could be considered an art form, but it mainly is a source of fun and motivation. "The fun of skating is trying," says Marvin Savers, "And the stoke you feel when you pull (things) off." Perhaps Bobby Ferry summed it up best when he stated, "Skating is like karate, it gives you self motivation." "If I can do this skating stuff," he elaborated, "I can do anything."

Accomplishments, that's what it's about.

1. On the Wall. Jason Corley enjoys street skate. Here he's doing a wall curve.
2. Basic Street Invert. By Keith McChesney.
3. Grind. Mark Foster gets happy as he grinds away at the concrete.
4. Rock'n'Roll. Bob Ferry licks his chops while performing a juicy "rock'n'roll" on his half-pipe.
5. Who Needs Wings. When you have a skateboard. Keith McChesney thrusting skyward.
6. Where's the Sewage? Exclaims Keith as Sean Killehua skates the pipe for all it's worth.
7. Air. Sean Killehua soars through the air above the "Keyhole"; a swimming pool at Del Mar Skateranch.
8. Laid Back. Kevin Dorn relaxes with a layback.

Sophomore Class Unites As One

The class of '89 started this year showing our incredible spirit by coming out on top of Homecoming week. We have proven ourselves to be excellent not only in academics but also on the athletic field.

The Sophomore class has grown together throughout the past two years. We have united as one. We all hope that in the next two years we can continue to show our enthusiasm.

We have proven to be the best at everything we do; academically, athletically and individually. The Sophomore class of '89 not only meets the standards, we set them!

Sincerely,

Joanna Zuniga

Gentlemen, Start Your Engines!

by Suzy Jones

Have you ever heard a car screaming out of the parking lot? Well, it wasn't a senior trying to get out of school fast, it was a sophomore taking behind the wheel training. One of the most horrifying experiences of the sophomore year is taking ten hours of behind the wheel. The frightening part wasn't your own driving, but it was the other drivers in the car who had previously only driven a car by themselves from the driveway to the garage. For people like Mary Spellman driver's training was difficult to even begin because, "The first day my driving instructor came, I lost my permit." But just because you finally had passed your driver's test doesn't mean the problems stop. Kristin Vogt's first time alone with the car ended in disaster. "I was backing out of Wendy's and I thought my foot was on the brake, but it was on the accelerator and I flew backwards!" So, just because you have passed your driver's tests doesn't mean that you have all instantly become an Indy car driver.

Off Limits- The Senior parking lot remains off limits to all underclassmen.

Modern Art

by Suzy Jones

Toilet papering or more commonly known as "TP-ing" has for many years been a favorite pastime of high school students. The latest craze this year was to add construction signs, shopping carts and various For Sale signs to the display. It really has become an art form. At about 2:30 a.m. a group stole off into the night (or morning). They collected selected construction signs throughout the city of Tustin. Then they raced over to the victim's house they quietly bombarded the front lawn with cheap no name brand toilet paper. All the while, they made sure not to make a single noise, otherwise they might wake up the dog. Once they ran out of "TP" they put the signs in strategic spots. The final thrill was to ring the doorbell and break the world record getting back to the car before the victim's dad comes out and tries to shoot you.

Jan Rice and Kim Ellison had similar experiences toilet papering. Jan Rice said, "My funniest experience tp-ing was when about 20 girls went to Foothill at 3:00 a.m. in the morning the day of the big football game and we hung signs and spread hay all over the place." Kim Ellison gave some advice to perspective tp-ers, she said, "Never get caught in a house that has a front gate and always make sure the getaway car will wait for you."

Not Made For Comfort

by Suzy Jones

Weren't you tired of sitting in those uncomfortable desks in class? Who designed them anyway? It obviously was someone who did not take into consideration that a student would be sitting in these desks for approximately six hours a day. It would have been nice to have enough room for both a piece of paper and a book to fit on the desk at the same time. Didn't you long for the days when you could lean back in your chair like in elementary school. As soon as you did the teacher would yell at you saying you were going to fall and break your neck. Now since the chair is attached to the desk, the only thing you had to do with your feet was to put them on the book basket under the desk in front of you. Didn't it drive you up the wall when the desk in front of you had the basket missing? Some people even go to the extent of switching desks around, just to be able to have something to rest their feet on. Students think the worst thing of all is trying to sleep in one of these desks. It's near impossible to sleep and be comfortable. Imagine that, designing a school desk that isn't comfortable to sleep in! David Kaufman had a complaint about the desks too. "They are too small, I can't have a notebook and a pencil on the same desk."

No Room- Leo Parker struggles to sit comfortably in a desk.

Perspective

by Greg Morales

Sports Illustrated, Feb. 24, 1986, pg. 73, by Bruce Anderson

"... As time passed, however, the Apple Pickers became Wildcats and Prune Pickers became Mustangs. Watsonville probably hasn't seen a Wildcat since Juan Cabrillo planted a Spanish flag on the Pacific Coast, and the only Mustangs in Gilroy are made by Ford. Homogenization, the hallmark of 20th-century America, has invaded high school athletics. There are exceptions. In California, we still have the Hayward Farmers, and the Tustin Tillers ..."

You can read on, but the point is clear. We are the exception. We are the exceptional!

How To Pass A Week

by Greg Morales

Why not fly to the East Coast? It only costs two hundred dollars round trip and whatever else you wish to pay. Why not climb to the top of one of the tallest buildings or look at one of the world's most famous "barrios"-Harlem- from a distance. Shop at FAOL Schwartz, Macy's, Sax's Fifth Avenue. Eat at the Hardrock, ride the subway, go on Broadway, visit Wall Street, see the Statue of Liberty, watch the Mets, ride the ferry, see David Letterman, walk to the train station, and go to Princeton, Boston, or New Haven or wherever. Ted Kim and Greg Morales did such a thing all by themselves. What would you do in one of the greatest cities in the world without any parental supervision and time to kill? Just Imagine.

Winter Sport

by Tanya Lefevre

Aspen. Mammoth. Vail. Park City. Snow Summit. Sound familiar? They should, many of you probably visited these resorts during Christmas break to enjoy one of Tustin High's favorite sports: SKIING. Although snow skiing is an exciting sport it takes alot of patience and lessons as well. With a little bit of work just about anyone can learn to ski. Usually once you start, you're hooked, and in no time you'll be dreaming of snow during those hot summer nights. With a pair of skis, poles, lift ticket, and alot of warm clothing you'll be set for the slopes.

Lori and Lissa Collins take a break from the grueling slopes in Telluride, Colorado.

Special Group Of Girls

By Suzy Jones

What do Helen Fields, Tina Ramirez, Teresa Person, Olivia Fields, Kim Morris, and Alessandra Morales have in common? They were all part of an American tradition, the Girl Scouts. They are in the Mariner Scout Ship Aquila, Troop 1015. Their most important event of the year is the Gathering of Mariners. They compete with other troops in a variety of events. The events range from having knowledge about the international code flags, charting, and first aid to swimming, canoeing, and sailing. They have won two first aid to swimming, canoeing, and sailing. They have won two fifth places and a second place in the last two years. They also organized a community oriented program called "Brownie Playday" as an information day on a variety of subjects. They also go Christmas caroling each year and sell their world famous cookies. Helen Fields commented on her work "Why have I stayed in scouting? Because it's a lot of fun; and the people I know and meet are the kind that stay your friends for life."

Cars, Cars, Cars . . .

by Kevin Dorn

"... Find my baby and bring her back, 'cause, she ran off with my Cadillac!"

-Jimmy and the Mustangs, 1983.

Like Jimmy, a lot of us want a flashy car, but lack the cash for a Ferrari. So what do we do?

Take an average everyday, boring automobile, and put it in the hands of a Tustin High student. Soon it's no longer a car, but personal expression on wheels! Some go to great lengths to make their car like no one else's. Custom paint jobs ($100-$1000), personalized license plates ($40), high performance stereos, and other accessories such as interior carpeting, and tinted windows are all part of it.

By far the most common and inexpensive route is the bumper sticker and assorted signs: "Why be normal?", "H₂O Polo" and "On the 7th day God went surfing."

The one trend that overtook THS this year had to be the little yellow, diamond-shaped signs. It all started with "BABY ON BOARD", after that the fad went crazy. Even Fred, our own janitor, has a "Boss in Trunk" sign on his maintenance cart. Do you like "Baby I'm Bored" or "Psycho on Board"? A lot of people don't. "They're stupid!", ranted student Bif Myers. As talk show host David Letterman put it, "They've really gotten out of hand."

Whatever trends arise in the future, one thing is for sure, Tillers will go on personalizing their cars.

Junior Class Shows Spirit & Unity

The class of '88 was unique because of its spirit and unity. Throughout the past two years at Tustin High our class has shown excellence in all areas from athletics to academic competitions. The great times we have had our Junior year and the memories of exciting events will never be forgotten. The friendships we have made in school will last forever. Each year the class of '88 gets better and closer. When we were Freshmen we met new people and began to participate in new activities. During our Sophomore and Junior years the people we met became close friends and we became the best in our activities, sports and academic areas.

The past three years have flown by quickly and the class of '88 has accomplished many great things. We have one more year at Tustin High and since each year was better than the last, our Senior year no doubt will be the absolute best. With our spirit and unity we will make our Senior year one of the most memorable years of our lives.

Even Princess Di Would Be Jealous

by Suzy Jones

As many avid shoppers have noticed South Coast Plaza went through a major renovation this past year. They added two major department stores, Robinsons and Broadway, so now South Coast Plaza has every major department store in California. It also has many elite specialty shops that can also be found in other metropolitan cities like New York and Paris. Shoppers like Crista Morehead said, "I love it! Shopping is one of my favorite things to do and now it is even better!" Julie James says, "I'm excited that all the new stores are here but even though shopping is one of my favorite hobbies, it now makes going to South Coast Plaza a serious workout with all the walking to the various stores." South Coast Plaza also puts a strain on your bank account. With the addition of new stores it means the reduction of cash for the shopper, but it means mega bucks for the stores. So, you not only have the best stores in California, you and your automatic teller card have a better workout than Jane Fonda could ever offer.

Souplantation

Working For A Living!

By Michelle Martin

You're broke, all your friends are going dancing and you can't go because you don't have any money. You say to yourself "I need to get a job!" (the same thing you've heard your parents say a hundred times) But where, whose going to hire a high school student besides Burger King or Del Taco, and who would work there! So you start asking around and you find out a lot of your friends work at Souplantation. So you go in and fill out an application, go through that dreaded interview, and you're hired into one of the many positions available. Your first day of work and you really don't want to go but you drag yourself there anyway thinking money all the way there. First you meet your manager and take a walk through the restaurant, and then you get your uniform that consists of a polo style shirt, Khaki colored shorts or pants (which you must purchase yourself), white socks and white tennis shoes. Then you are trained and sent to work. Half way through your shift you realize that it's not so bad and your actually having a good time. Well your shift is finally over and it's time to go home, on the way home you're looking forward to working your next shift.

These are just some of the reasons why working at Souplantation is so great. You get to eat free food (on your working days, and half off when you're not working), wear a comfortable uniform, joke around with you're managers and just have a good time. Besides, where else can you find a job that will close down at 4:00 on Halloween day to give their employees a Halloween party?

The Point Of Vulnerability

by Greg Morales

Everyone wears them. In fact everyone hides behind them. You see them best at lunch time. They are the masks people wear so that they will impress others. The cliques are determined and if you can not pay the price for the right mask then you can not be admitted. You must appeal to others and sad to say at this and every school we all do not appeal to each other. Sometime when you are tired of impressing everyone sit back and simply watch. It is then and only then that you will see how people are able to wear and change countless different masks in such a short time period. It is at school that we test and discover which masks fit best and accomplish what is desired for individual profit. After our high school years we will buy new masks, keep old ones, and throw out those that are of no benefit. In between wearing each mask is a point of vulnerability and it is this point where a person shows their true colors. It is at such a point that when two people simultaneously are changing masks that they will be drawn to each other. After such encounter the pair will be able to see right through each others mask and time will dictate the rest. I dare you. Sit back and just watch. You'll be amazed. We could all be actors. Just pick the right masks!

Divine Comedy

by Greg Morales

It is called a romantic comedy. Have you seen it? Anyone who is anyone, has! It is what Tustin High and the entire nation take time out to do on Tuesday nights. The pencils stop writing, the eyes stop reading, and the minds stop thinking. It is listed in the television guides at 9:00 on channel 7. When it begins, people relax. People await the new episode of "Moonlighting". The Blue Moon Detective Agency prepares to take on a new case. Maddie Hayes and David Addison tackle the case like no pair before and the results are laughter. Who, more than anyone else, brings about that laughter than David Addison — The Big 'D' ssch ... listen.

- "Oh ... It's the first living brain donor."

- "We might need a manual for this."

- "I put the 'F' back in siesta."

- "Die you dirty digit."

- "Do bears bear, do bees bee?"

- "Clue? I'll give you a clue, it starts with a 'C' and ends with a 'lue'."

- "Zounds with Mounds."

- "Jack be nimble, Jack be quick, Jack go under the limbo stick."

- "Heeere's Petruchio!"

Believe me. The list goes on and on. What was fit to be on Network television that touched the lives of millions, is unfit to be printed within the spheres of the Iron Curtain.

The Dating Game?

By Michelle Martin

What kind of desperate person would go on the dating game to find a date? I mean let's get serious this is the 80's, you don't need a game to get a date.

This year Marita DeLeon was the lucky lady with three wonderful bachelors to chose from, Rodger Middleton, Louis Klien, and Joe Adrian. Their host, Melissa Northway, introduced the lucky lady, Chi Chi the mud wrestler, and her three choices.

Chi Chi the mud wrestler, and her three choices. Marita's first question, of course was, "Can you say hello in your sexiest voice?" One reply was "Helloo" in a deep throaty voice.

The lucky bachelor was chosen and who else but Rodger Middleton, after being described as a carrot! When I asked Marita about her day on the dating game she replied, "I enjoyed being Chi Chi the mud wrestler for a day!"

Oh Dating Game- Oh My Gosh!-Louis Klien shows us his best surprised look when he finds out Chi Chi is really Marita DeLeon.

Stryper Junior Performs at the Door

by Bill Hargrove

What is the Door? The Door is where everyone goes after the football games and you can get all the pizza, coke and ice cream you want for only $5.00 or $4.50 with a coupon. That's an awesome deal! Imagine ... you can eat until your face falls off and you can spaz out with your friends and a LIVE band! The bands we had were: Common Bond, Got It, Modern Mission, Darrell Mansfield Band, Crumbacher, Holidays, Fourth Watch, Altar Boys, 441 and special guest Cary Trivanovich. Got It was such a great hit we asked them to come back. They originated in South Africa. That was only their 4th time to perform in America.

Who makes it happen? RAY SCHWARTZ ... with the help of Jesus Christ. That is what the Door is all about ... to spread the word of Christ. Ray is youth pastor of Calvary Church of Santa Ana, where the Door is held each year. Come out and see what the Door is all about. We have school competitions, live bands, food and testimonies.

This year we had the opportunity to watch our infamous football players; Bill Hargrove, Tony Cena, Shawn Reagin and Sean Gutridge mimic Stryper. The girls just went wild. For example the girls were trying to pull the guys down to where they could get a better reach to touch them. One girl went even as far as to jump on the stage to give Shawn Reagin a huge hug.

The guys had trouble getting to the Door, they got lost in Santa Ana. They were supposed to go on at 11:00 but they didn't get there until 12:00 then they said it was too late. They asked again and got to perform. Tony was lead singer and guitar. Sean was the drummer, Bill was Bass guitar, Shawn was lead guitar.

Tony Cena's mom made the costumes and Scott Drapkin designed them. Tony's mom worked on the outfits for a couple hours a night for 3 nights. They practiced from 3p.m. to 6p.m. and on Sundays after church.

Tony formed the band; he decided a requirement was to be a dedicated Christian. He's always wanted to perform air guitar with Reagin but he never wanted to do a Christian band. Then at the first Door, Shawn decided to give his life to Christ. Tony jumped at the chance to get Reagin to do a Christian air guitar. We asked them why they chose Stryper, they said because it grabs attention and it's relevant to teenage society.

This year Tustin High had some of the football players give their lives to Christ too. Every Tuesday night at 7:30 after practice 15 to 20 guys went over to Brian Hardin's house for a Bible study. Steve Comings lead the Bible Study each week. They had special guest speakers from the Rams; George Andrews and Steve Bartowski.

Stryper Junior knows where they're going when they die ... DO YOU?

1. Stryper Talks- Oz Fox, real guitarist for Stryper gives his testimony at the Door.
2. One Way- After the University football game, "Stryper Junior" from Tustin High School entertained a thousand students from several high schools at the Door.

Food Galore

by Suzy Jones

When Tustin Builds Seniors prosper!
With the recent construction of new shopping centers, Tustin has gained some new eating places. Now less than two minutes away from THS are 4 new eating places. They range from Mustard's Hot Dogs, where you could check up on the latest soaps while eating, and also order your food ahead of time so it's ready when you get there. Heidi's Frozen Yogurt, Souplantation (only seniors who had no 5th had time to eat here) to Yours Yogurt where you were allowed to serve your own yogurt and Tustin High students were given a discount. It made racing to lunch a much easier experience. Seniors are obviously happy about the new eating places. Senior Holly Fletcher said "I really like Mustard's because of their French Fries."

Ready, Set, Go - As soon as the bell rings, this place will be empty!

Remember the day that the campus was completely void of seniors? Well, it was not because they were all ditching, it was because they were all chowing down on spaghetti at the Spaghetti Factory. As all the seniors rushed in starved to death, they ran for the various seats in the train and the booths that looked like beds. After devouring approximately three loaves of bread per table, each person received a generous portion of spaghetti which filled even the heartiest of appetites. Everyone was then thoroughly entertained by singer comedian Paul Aldrich. Andy Chi said, "I enjoyed the bus ride and I loved the bread!" Brad Finney summed it up best when he said, "I liked getting out of school legally."

Chowing Down — Seniors Julie James, Crista Morehead, Diane Predney and Sara Lundy are seen enjoying themselves at the Senior Lunch.

29-31, 30-36, 36-29, 25-29, 31-34, 41-42, 27-29, 32-33, 34-31 ... blue, yellow, white, black, red, grey ... Those are the numbers and the colors. To what? 501 button-fly shrink to fit jeans. You have seen the commercials. Do you have the blues? Then get colors. Everyone has them. Easy-on, easy-off. They're affordable. They're hip. They're a fashion statement. You can rip them, you can throw them, you can wash them, you can do almost anything and they'll always be the same. They're like a fine wine, they get better with age. They're never out of style. They are not too expensive. They can fit everyone. Large. Small. Skinny. Chunky. They define those ways and means- even Ronald Reagan wears them. What would the U.S.A. be without them? What would Tustin be without 501's? Imagine if we had a dress code that outlawed button-fly 501 jeans-shrink to fit by Levi's. We'd still wear 'em!

Levis - They are everywhere!

Non-Stop-Pakistan To Tustin

Muhammad Qureshi, Age 17. This Tustin High School senior came to the United States in July of 1986 from Pakistan. He came to the U.S. blessed with the ability to speak 5 languages-Urdu, English, Punjabi, Siraiy and Hindi, and he pursued his studies toward becoming an electronics engineer. Muhammad has aspirations to visit the great cities of New York and Washington, D.C. and in doing so visit the world famous Statue of Liberty and the White House. Muhammed came to California welcomed by his 2 uncles, 2 aunts and grandmother, and it was one of his uncles who sponsored him in coming to Tustin, California. Muhammad said, "I hope to be a good person for the U.S.A. People are very friendly and the system of education here is very good." Muhammad Muzaffar H. Qureshi is one of the people who make things happen. Together with Muhammad, we will make it happen.

The competition was intense. The spotlight was on. The team of Paul Egendorf, Ted Kim, Lee Pooler and alternate Gregory Morales coached by Mr. Hume had become television stars. Matchpoints, the game that pitted high school against high school and the winner be thou that knowest the most. The competition of trivia and knowledge began for the Tustin team November 24, 1986 at 1:00p.m. Paul Egendorf led the team allowing his knowledge to flourish and due to his intense frame of mind the score between Tustin and University see-sawed back and forth until the last question. It was 210- Tustin and 220- University with one last question remaining. A correct answer by Tustin would deadlock the score and force a tie-breaking question. A correct answer by University would signal a first round victory celebration. Sweat was dripping and bodies were shaking as host Jim Miller of Chapman College read that all important final question. All six participants slammed the buzzer. The crowd roared. University was faster. All they needed was the correct answer. Tustin crossed their fingers as University answered. The answer was correct. Tustin lost.

Brain Power - Despite their loss in the competition the members of the Match Points team still can smile because of their valiant effort. They are Paul Egendorf, Greg Morales, Lee Pooler, and Ted Kim.

Tustin Law

by Suzy Jones

Objection, the Counsel is leading the witness, overruled, Counsel may proceed. It may sound like a few lines from the new show L.A. Law, but the actors were not from Hollywood, they came straight out of Tustin High. The event was the California State Mock Trial competition. The participants enacted a fictitious case. The performances included everything from being an attorney to being a witness. The attorneys were assisted by a real public defender, Ron Clark, in formulating questions and the over all case. The witnesses were expected to memorize their character's background and make an accurate account of the events on the stand. Drew Lautrop, attorney for the prosecution said, "To have the floor, or complete attention of everyone in a room is fun, however, to object and cut someone off in midsentence and have the judge sustain it, now that is the best!" Paul Egendorf, a witness for the prosecution said, "Even though the court is nothing like the movies, it is still fun." The other participants were defense attorneys Julie James, Craig Castellenet, prosecution attorneys Suzy Jones, Mike Dobak, Nicole Bartolomucci and witnesses Shannon Robison, Chris Monty and Jennifer Carter. The experience gave all the participants an interesting insight into our judicial system.

On the Defense- Nicole Bartolomucci, Suzy Jones and Mike Dobak, attorneys for the defense think about their next line of questioning, while defendant Jennifer Carter worries about her fate.

Propaganda. The many appealing college brochures.

by Greg Morales

It begins slowly. One here. One there. It begins during your junior year. It does not stop until ... They come addressed dear student. You feel so proud. Your parents can not hide their pride. Grinnel, Univ. of the Pacific, Santa Cruz, Oberlin, Boston College, Washington Univ., Puget Sound, the Marines. The mail increases. You send off the reply cards simply hoping to get more mail. And your wishes are answered. Soon all the mail is addressed to you. The mail box is full beyond capacity, until finally the mailman must deliver the mail personally. Finally it happens. Yale sends a letter. USC, UCLA, Harvard, Stanford, Columbia, Princeton, Berkeley ... They are still addressed dear student. You can't hide your emotions and your parents are so excited, they are speechless. The mail continues to increase throughout the summer. You feel so important. Finally, a letter comes addressed to not dear student, but to you with your own name. This time it is even signed not by a stamp, but personally. September comes. It is time to apply. Large manila envelopes arrive in the mail. Applications. Where are you going to apply? First, why not take a week off from school and visit the colleges? Even go back East if you can! Any excuse to get out of school. That is what you do! So you come back. You do not narrow it down at all. Instead the list broadens. Finally, after deciding which campuses to apply to, you read - "make a $40 check payable to ..." What! $40 a shot-10 schools-$400. Oh, my! The applications are enormous. You send 'em. The mail still has not slowed down. You're mind begins to turn upside down. SAT-is it good enough? Deadlines. More mail. Interviews. Essays. Transcripts. Money. Achievements. Scholarships. Teacher recommendations. School reports. ACT. Telephone calls. Early action? Early decision? Nov. 1, Nov. 15, Nov. 30, Dec. 31, Jan. 1, Feb. 15. The list goes on. You try to cope-not to mention regular school work. More teacher recommendations. Interviews. Rush report. Try the SAT one more time? Take a SAT class. Christmas comes-you forget to shop-too many applications. Finally, everything is submitted-as far as you know. Universities send you postcards telling you are missing this or that. Luckily you xeroxed your application. It's done. $400 spent. Wait ... that is all that's left. Wait. Will I make it? You console yourself-safety in numbers. Concentrate on regular work. Only time will tell. You think-what will happen if you get 10 rejections? The mail box will again fill up. Take a breath. At least for now.

2. Lori Collins and Suzy Jones take time out to smile for the camera in Yearbook.
3. Homecoming Queen Julie James is congratulated by her proud father after her coronation.

Senior Class Excels

As our four years at Tustin High have quickly sped past, I can without a doubt say that this year has proven to be the best yet. Not only has the class of '87 excelled in academics and athletics, but our class seems to have grown into a unified whole. Involvement in this year's activities has been tremendous and I hope upon your leaving Tustin High, that you will have great memories to carry with you. Best of luck in your future endeavours. Thanks for a great year!

Would you believe that Bigfoot married Marie Osmond last week? Well Mike Hanes and Penny Martin might because they were voted most gullible. They tended to trust what other people told them so they ended up getting fooled a lot. Mike said the most gullible thing he ever believed was when "I believed my friend saved all these people's lives". Despite the fact that Mike is gullible, he still was a member of the Varsity baseball team. Penny says the most gullible thing she ever believed was that "My friend told me her father was 89 years old".

In the summer of '86 Hilary's dream came true, she received a scholarship to study at the Joffrey School of Ballet in New York City. Hilary was one of approximately 30 dancers chosen out of thousands through a national audition to study at Joffrey. Hilary's plan for the future include returning to Manhattan to continue to study with Joffrey until she is offered a contract with a major professional Ballet company. Hilary dances three hours a day, six days a week. While she spends most of her time dancing, she still maintains a 4.0 and enjoys modeling, singing and drawing.

The World Trade Center is of deep foundation and strength, and the Empire State Building is of graceful curves and strong buttresses. These are the characteristics that embody "a structure of sound build". Susan Marileet and Tim Hollinger are these buildings of our school. They embody the features of such an honor, and with such characteristics comes certain benefits. A romance by definition is a love affair, so those of you who saw "Murphy's Romance" would understand the term romance. It is a beautiful experience and relationship that brings fulfillment to one's life. A romance need not end, but sadly enough an increasing trend of the '80's is to substitute a romance for a fling. But there is hope, Brian Hardin and Patty Rodriguez are the last of a great wave. Between them exists the bond of a true romance. They are in a sense an endangered species, and in the future it might be necessary to put them or a similar couple in a zoo so the future generations might come to understand what a romance truly is. But that will be avoided if all of you learn and take note of Brian and Patty's relationship, and the strength and support they give to each other.

Do you wonder why they call twinkies twinkies? The reason is so obvious, they were made by twins and they are sold in pairs. Tim and Tom Kotlar, Lance and Lana Langford and James and John Frye are as far as one could tell living proof of the miracle of the twinkie. Each pair of twins, though alike in many ways were and still are very much unique individuals. Growing up together they obviously developed common habits as well as several diverse interests. Being the twin of a twinkie might bring rise to some definite drawbacks, like having to buy someone else a present on your birthday, but I am sure twindom has some benefits. Together twins will continue to spread their influence, so when you buy your next twinkie contemplate what you would do if you had a twin or a triplet (3) or a quadruplet (4) or even a do-decalet (12).

Go to school, go to work and go surfing. That's the life-style of Mark Zalac, a senior who has been surfing since his freshman year. He seems to have no trouble juggling the three. "I can't go before school but I can go after, I get out of school at 12:16." He surfs until 6:30 then he goes home to do homework. He has competed in two contests. In his first contest he placed 19th over-all and in his second contest he placed fourth in his first heat. He's off to a good start for fulfilling his ultimate goal. He hopes "to become one of the best surfers in the world or at least in the top 5 on the ASP (Association of Surfing Professionals)."

Sean,

Tillers Become A Seaview Power

The 1986 Tiller football team has created a new mold of the way exciting football should be played. The squad, under third year Coach Marjon Ancich, was like a well oiled machine turning out touchdowns and wins one after another. Tustin High has waited a long time for a team of this quality, but watching this team play was well worth it.

The players and coaches have been working extremely hard for the past few months to create this success. The coaches, Ancich, offensive coordinator Ed Carberry, first year D-line coach Vince Brown, Jeff Veeder, Mark Lopez, Mike Reiter, Tony Wyatt and Coach Stipp felt from the beginning that this team was going to be a success in the Seaview League.

The Tillers are led by cornerback Brian Hardin, quarterback George Menges, and tightend Dave Patstone. The team started off the year with a big win in Hawaii over Kapaa, 26-0. Back in California, our first loss was to top ten ranked Los Alamitos, 7-3. The Tillers first home game proved to be a tough one with a come from behind victory over Irvine, 10-7. The Tillers proved they were a championship quality team the next week by beating number four ranked Foothill, 21-6. West Torrance proved to be an easy opponent which we beat, 33-7. Our first league opponent was tough Newport Harbor which we beat 28-17. The Tillers then let down and had to come from behind with a 13-0 half time advantage to put away a scrappy Corona Del Mar team, 14-13. On Halloween evening the Tillers clinched a play-off berth for the first time in 32 years with a 35-6 win over Estancia.

Coach "A" Wins 200

by Greg Morales

Milstones come and go. The 20th century came and went. The 21st century is here and it will go. On September 25, Tustin's Northrup Field became the site of a significant milestone. A milestone few have reached, and one that few ever can hope to reach. In a 10-7 battle over Irvine, Marijon Ancich, with 22 years of coaching experience under his belt, reached that elite milestone of 200 coaching wins. In achieving it he began on a new quest, a new goal. The goal and the milestone being of course Tustin's quest for a CIF football championship.

Tillers Win Sea View League Title

Stun Saddleback 9-7 in Tense Game

With a forty yard field goal, Tim Kotlar erased 31 years of frustration for Tustin High School.

On November 7th with 9:11 remaining in the fourth quarter, Kotlar's kick lifted the Tillers to an improbable 9-7 victory over Saddleback in a standing-room-only crowd of 4500 at Northrup Field.

The victory was significant for several reasons. Tustin earned its first league championship in 31 years and also toppled 17-0 Saddleback from the ranks of the unbeaten.

To fully understand how great the victory was, one has to note that Saddleback was ranked 3rd in the Western United States, ranked second in Orange County behind El Toro and was the defending league champion and CIF Central Conference champion. Saddleback entered the game with a 17-0 record spanning the last two years. Coach Ancich said, "They are the most talented team in Orange County. They have the quickest kids, nobody belongs with these guys!" In 1985, Saddleback had rolled over Estancia 38-14, Woodbridge 31-7, Corona Del Mar 32-7, Costa Mesa 48-7, Laguna Beach 42-20, Bolsa Grande 42-7, Valencia (7-1-1) 28-9, La Habra 28-7, and La Quinta 34-28. In 1986: Santa Ana Valley 41-6, Santa Ana (1986 Century League champion 9-1) 25-6, Irvine 41-0, Corona Del Mar 28-7, La Habra 24-8, Capistrano Valley 48-7, University 35-7, and Newport Harbor 17-0. Ancich said before the game that to win, "We are going to have to stand on the sidelines and cut them off." And that the Tillers did! In the first quarter, Saddleback scored on its second possession, driving 71 yards in ten plays, the touchdown coming on Hector Santa Cruz's 2-yard run on fourth down. After this score the Tillers' red defense stiffened and smothered the Roadrunners' speed.

Tailback Nate Primous was the most effective performer, gaining 123 yards in 22 carries.

The first of Tim Kotlar's three field goals came as time expired in the first half after the Tillers had seen one apparent touchdown nullified by a clipping penalty and another erased by an interception in the end-zone by Santa Cruz.

The Tillers played ground control football gaining 190 yards with tailback Lani Machado and fullback Chris Gankema (70 yards on 10 carries) providing the key running plays. On the first Tiller drive, quarterback George Menges (6 of 14 for 87 yards) threw his first of two interceptions which stopped the Tillers. Tustin then stopped the Roadrunners and regained the ball at their own 34 yardline.

With a 32 yd. run by Lani Machado (103 yds. in 23 carries) and a screen pass to Machado for 29 yds., the Tillers drove down to the 11 yd. line, where they scored but had the TD called back on the penalty.

Kotlar then added his first field goal of the night to narrow the score to 7-3 at halftime.

On their first possession in the second half, Gankema went outside for a 36 yd. run before being caught from behind. The Tillers drove the ball down to the 15 yd. line before stalling. Kotlar came in to kick his second field goal which made the score 7-6.

Saddleback drove quickly down the field but their drive stopped when Shawn Reagin recovered a fumble at the Tiller 31 yd. line. Saddleback made another major error after they forced the Tillers to punt when tailback Nate Primous fumbled a pitchout which was recovered by Brian Hardin.

At the beginning of the 4th quarter the Tillers started at their own 39 yd. line and gave the ball to Machado. Saddleback stopped the Tillers, but Kotlar came in to kick his 3rd field goal which gave the Tillers the win. Kotlar said about the kick, "I was trying to concentrate on doing my job. The first two kicks felt pretty good, and the last one was exciting." Kotlar was 3 for 3 with kicks of 28, 32, and 40 yards. The next Thursday, the Los Angeles Times voted Kotlar player of the week honors.

"This was one of the greatest games I've ever been associated with," Tiller Coach Ancich said. "This is the first time in 31 years this school has won a football title ... We are the Sea View League champions and nobody can take that away from us. This was just a great game and a great win!"

Saddleback, which could not seem to take advantage of its speed advantage against a fired-up Tustin defense had its last minute drives stall at midfield. Linebacker Mike Macias picked off a key interception to stop one of the drives. Tiller defensive tackle, Trini Franca, summed it up for all of the Tillers at the games' end, "We did it!"

Tillers Split Second Season

CIF Playoffs

Tustin High set a school record for victories on Friday November 21st and advanced to the second round of the CIF Central Conference playoffs with a 21-14 triumph over Western High of Anaheim.

The Tillers (9-2), seeded second in the playoffs, snapped a 7-7 tie with a 14 point third quarter to eliminate the Pioneers of Western.

"We broke the 64-year-old school record by winning nine games," Tustin Coach Marijon Ancich said.

Scott Pulaski's 66 yard punt return early in the third quarter put Tustin ahead to stay. Then his 28-yard runback on Western's next punt set up the deciding touchdown.

Lani Machado played a key role in the game gaining 79 yards rushing and 14 yards on two pass receptions.

Western scored first in the game by scoring in the first quarter. They also scored in the final minutes of the 3rd quarter when Art Giovannini grabbed a deflected pass and ran across the goal.

George Menges passed 6 yards to Chris Gankema for Tustin's first touchdown following a fumble recovery by Walter McMahon at the Western 13. Sean Pulsifer made a key play with an interception in the end zone to stop a Western threat. In the 4th quarter Brian Hardin intercepted a pass by Rich Miklos and the Tillers ran out the clock for a 21-14 win.

The Tillers advanced to the Quarterfinals of the playoffs and met Bolsa Grande High School, the Garden Grove League Champion with a 10-1 record. Bolsa's only loss was a 33-10 beating by top seed Valencia H.S. of Placentia.

The first quarter was a scoreless tie. During the second quarter Bolsa kicked a 24 yard field goal and picked off George Menges for a 28 yard interception return for a TD giving them a 10-0 lead at the half. On the first play of the 4th quarter, Bolsa quarterback Damon Fisher ran through the Tustin defense for a 68 yard TD for a 17-0 lead. George Menges then connected with Dave Patstone for a 12 yard pass completion to bring the score to 17-7. Tustin attempted an onside kick which was recovered by the Matadors. On the next play, Fisher ran an option play and decided to keep the ball. He zig zagged past several Tiller defensive players for a 48 yard touchdown run that put the game out of reach for the Tillers at 24-7. Tiller quarterback George Menges hit Dave Patstone with a 37 yard pass for a touchdown to bring the score to 24-14. Menges was 9 of 21 for 169 yards and Lani Machado gained only 33 yards. "Their defensive front manhandled us - They just beat us!" Coach Ancich said of the game. Bolsa Grande went on to have a 13-1 season and win the CIF Central Conference Championship.

Tustin's football team finished their finest season of all time with a 9-3 record.

By Coach Mirich

Football power in the Sea View League looks good for the future at Tustin High School. Led on the offensive line by Eric Rasmussen, David Sagan, Brent Drouin, Chad Scott, and Clayton Sellers, this Varsity Type line blended well with running backs; Hung Hoang, Jason Piazza, Chris Varvarinecz. Quarterback Jack Cargile had a fine group of ends to throw to like Pete Gerlach, John Weldon, Chris Mazurek, and Jason Avey.

On defense the Sophomores were led by a Standout group of linebackers like Chris Feliceano, Kevin Jurkowski, Ken Ammann and Justin Mooney. The defensive line was made up of Jason Newingham, John Brant, Mike Fox, and Terry Rosenagle. To round off this defense were defensive backs Brady Michel, Steve Hall, Joe Severino, Travis Martin, and Randy Erickson.

A true team effort by all the coaches, parents, and players made this a great year Tustin High Football.

Freshmen Build towards Future

Even though the freshmen football team won 4 and lost 6 games, the future was not dark for the Tillers. The freshmen offense was led by Quarterback Dan Baker and wide receiver Frank Mercuri. Together they combined for 15 passing touchdowns.

Defensively, the Tillers recorded 4 shutouts and played aggressive football all year. The defense was anchored by Darren Mc Cab, Brian Sorenson, Jason Barney, Robert Richardson and Andy Gomez.

Special Teams were outstanding, not allowing an opposing touchdown all season. The frosh improved week after week and with continued practice will blend into the strong Tustin football program.

The freshmen were coached by Dick Stevenson, Head Coach; John Colon, defensive coordinator; Kent Katnik, offensive line; Chris Hord, linebackers; Greg Kossak, defensive ends; and Todd Nelson, defensive backs.

Girl's Cross Country on Upswing

by Coach Coffey

In what would be termed a rebuilding year for our girl's Varsity Cross Country team, they nevertheless qualified for CIF once again. Freshman Erin Cunningham and sophomore Olivia Fields were the most consistent front runners on the team. Seniors Laurie Reider, Carrie Freeman, and Christy Clevenger, along with freshman Wendy Bassett, made other valuable contributions. Of special mention, the girls freshman team had a perfect 58-0 record in invitational competition - This insures a bright future for the girls program.

Cross Country Runs to the Top of Sea View League

The transition to the Sea View League this year was very successful for the boy's Varsity Cross Country team. The team lead by seniors Rich Brethour, Alex Mate, David Gilbody, and Don Glover swept to an undefeated duel meet season. Super sophomore Pablo Guzman also made a big contribution as the varsity's number two runner. Pablo set a sophomore school record of 15:22 in the process. Rich Brethour, the team's number one runner, highlighted his season by winning the Sea View League individual title with a time of 14:51. Richard was Tustin's first individual boys Varsity Cross Country champion in 22 years.

Water Polo finishes 4th Place in Top League

by Coach Philpot

Our varsity team finished with an overall 18-9 record, and held a 4th and 5th place ranking for the majority of the year in all of C.I.F. The Tillers worked their way into the top 10 by upsetting Sunny Hills and Villa Park early in the season. The Tillers rose in the rankings to 4 as they later knocked off powerhouse teams from Wilson, Foothill, and once again beat Sunny Hills, this year's eventual C.I.F. Champions. Perhaps the most encouraging part of this year is that this was accomplished with only three seniors on the entire squad. This was Tustin's best team since the 1982 C.I.F. championship squad. Next year, however, could be even stronger.

JV/Frosh-Soph Look Strong for Future

Junior Varsity Polo - A strong junior varsity squad bolstered up with four key sophomores lost only two games all season. Many of these players will be competing for varsity positions next season, and several even logged some varsity experience this season. Our outstanding JV team is just one more reason why next year's water polo team looks so promising.

Frosh-Soph Polo - This year's frosh-soph consisted almost entirely of freshmen since most of the sophomores had to play up to the junior varsity level. Our freshmen still managed to knock off a few teams dominated by sophomores. In the final game of the season against Foothill, both coaches agreed to play all sophomores and frosh together for the final game. Result: Tustin 8, Foothill 0.

Tennis Finds It Tough in Sea View League

Girls Varsity Tennis had a tough season this year. They played against some of the top ranked players in Southern California. Bridget Rundle led the team with the most victories and also was the Most Valuable Player. Uyen Nguyen was a newcomer to Varsity, but she managed to hold her own. She won the Coaches award. The singles rotation was rounded out with the play of Susan Conklin. The doubles was led by Suzy Jones (team captain) and Sara Lundy who rallied with Carrie Sisel and Jenny Mumenthaller for the number one position. Jennifer Wade and Joanne Eagan had an excellent year as number three doubles. The team was coached by Jerry Spivey.

Tustin High's Junior Varsity tennis team made its debut in the Seaview League this year with somewhat less than a victorious season. It was definitely a growing fear for everyone involved. The team was led by Captain Mei Brumfield - both Mei and her partner Kelsey Beck, received the Most Valuable Player awards for doubles play. Diane Nguyen was awarded Most Valuable Singles Player. Charlotte Bieri was most improved while Diane Nguyen was awarded the scholar athlete with the highest GPA. Coach's Award was given to Ileri Morelos for dedication and willingness to improve.

Tillers Fly In Seaview League

by Matt Lundin

The 1986-87 Tiller Basketball Team was one of the most successful teams in recent years. This team could play the power game, they could run, or they could play outside. With an overall record of 19-5 one could see just how good they were. Led by senior forward Rog Middleton and junior Leo Parker Jr. the Tillers finished second in league with a 7-3 record. This team's talent was spread all over the floor with such key players as Vern Broadnax, LeSean "Tiny" London, Brad Cantrell, Dave Patstone, Lou Klein, Eric Hermann, and George Menges. This team went all the way to the third round of C.I.F. and gave all of its fans something to really look forward to twice a week.

After going over to Arizona during Christmas vacation and playing in the Fiesta Bowl Tournament, everyone in the county knew that this was a team to look out for. This team was a team with a lot of heart, you could see the will to win in their eyes everytime they took the floor. What a great season it was for the 1986-87 Tillers!

Tillers Reach Quarterfinals

by Matt Lundin

The 1987 CIF playoffs proved to be very successful for the Tillers. After crushing Buena Park and coming back to beat a powerful Morningside team, the Tillers and about 1500 Tustin faithfuls made the trip north to the College of the Canyons to face Saugus. This was a game in which the Tillers had an eight point lead late in the game, but saw that lead disappear and the game went down to the final buzzer with Saugus barely holding on to win 59-56. It was a great tournament for Tustin and a great year!

2. Aggressive• Parker taking down another rebound, AVG. 10 a game.

CHAMPIONSHIPS

True Champions

by Doneisa Anderson

This years Girls Basketball team had the best record in the schools' history and brought home their first ever league championship. Their 20-7 record included a 9-1 league mark, a third place in the Etiwanda Tournament, fifth place at the Savanna Tournament and a consolation crown at the Costa Mesa Tourneyment. A tough draw and key illnesses saw the Tillers eliminated in the first round of their 14th consecutive playoff appearance.

The Lady Tillers led in scoring by Sea View League MVP Tricia Andres, who finished in the top 5 in the schools' scoring and assist categories. Leading rebounder Doneisa Anderson was joined on the All-League first team by Melissa Hammond.

Janice Gonzales was named to the second team, while Dorene Haver and Jennifer Kline received honorable mention.

Although they were the new kids on the block the girls 1986-87 Varsity basketball team dominated the Seaview League and took control over all the games winning all but one to Estancia.

The team led by captain Tricia Anders showed extreme intensity through every game, giving all they had to become true champions!

Vision Toward Victory

by Doneisa Anderson

In spite of learning from a new coach and having only one experienced JV player, the JV's rolled to a 10-0 league record and their second straight league championship.

Their 17-4 record gives the Lady Tiller JV's a 53-11 record over the last three years, including 30 consecutive wins in league play. Highlights also included a last-second win in the Consolation Championship of the CostaMesa Tournament, and two exciting league wins over second place Saddleback.

JV Tried Hard

The J.V. boys were a hard working team always ready for their games either home or away. Most losses that occurred were the result of long hard battles which could have gone either way.

This team should be commended for their hard work as it showed when they got on the court. In years to come J.V. will no doubt be more aggressive and determined than they were this year, and will become a threat to all other teams.

Frosh/Soph Basketball Looks Toward Future

It was a tough road for the sophomores this year, but this was a team that never quit. To start, seven sophomores were moved up to the J.V. team, all having a significant impact on that level. That left first-year coach Pat Newton having to scramble to develop a cohesive unit. Key players included: Dale Erbes, Carl Robinson, John Weldon and Tom Kim. Improvement by everyone is needed and that can be accomplished through hard work. If this group is willing to put forth that effort- then good things can happen and the future looks bright.

The 1986-87 Tustin Freshmen Basketball team under the direction of coach Judd Fryslye shows lots of promise for a bright future in Tiller basketball. The team was led in scoring by M.V.P. Jason Moore and Phuong Tran and most important player Freddie Blarrell. All members of squad chipped in with outstanding efforts throughout the year while facing tough Sea View league opponents.

It was a season to be proud of and with a little hard work in the off season and lots of vitamins, these freshmen Tillers of today will be an impressive group to follow in the years to come.

Soccer Finishes Fourth

by Coach Seidenberg

Tustin Girl's Soccer. 1986-87, an introduction to a new league, a development of a young team, and a hope for the next season.

We had a respectable performance this season, coming in, in fourth place in the Seaview League.

We will miss seniors Marita DeLeon, Julie Kettering, Laurie Reider, Christy Snaadt, and Kristin Vogt, each of whom provided stability, direction, and inspiration to this year's team.

The Girl's Soccer program continues to grow and develop in performance and commroderie. We have many to thank for our successes and many to carry on the tradition.

1. Tricky. Laurie Reider shows her opponent some moves.
2. Watch Out. you have no chance when Chanelle Chambrone is around.
3. Plastic Women. Jennifer Netherwood stretches to kick the ball.
4. I Got It. Dana Le Blanc and Kristin Augustine apparently both called for the ball.

Girl's Soccer Rebuilds

by Coach Don Augustine

Our first year in the Seaview League was a learning experience. I expected strong soccer programs from most of the schools and wasn't disappointed. Most of the season, although we played well, we were one goal away from winning. Our two wins came against two old Century League rivals in preseason play. Next year we will be more prepared for the level of play in the Seaview League.

The 1987 boy's Varsity Tennis team was led by seniors Chris Amormino, Rod Kukla, Neal Kawasaki, Jeff Bos, Huy Nguyen, and Mike Dobak. Other outstanding performances were given by juniors Kevin Villar, Seong Suh and freshman Darin Hughes. Despite the extremely intense competition in the new Seaview League, the team persevered and continued to improve during the season.

The Junior Varsity team faired pretty well in the new league. They were led by top players, Ken Surian, Geoff Clark, David Kenyon, Vinnie Acosta, Kevin Born and Tim McFarland. The future of Tustin tennis looks bright with these young men

New League Brings Tough Competition For Boys Swimming

by: Kevin Hargrove

Entering into the Sea View League brought on some stiff competition for the Boys' Swim Team. Teams like Corona Del Mar, Estancia and University were expected to be the teams the Tillers would fight against for the league title.

In addition to tough competition, the new league made efforts on personal goals more concentrated.

Coach Philpot hoped that these concentrated efforts would lead to many individuals qualifying for CIF.

Two such hopefuls were Kevin Leinback and Paul Barrera. Others included sprinters David Eagan and Peter Herman, and flyer Ken Sayre.

Although the depth of this years' team was not as strong as last year, the future looks bright. The large number of underclassmen brings hope for a strong team in the future.

Girls Varsity Swimmers Make Waves

by: Michele Nicks

Tustin High Schools girls varsity swim team had an excellent season in the new Sea View League, which is considered to be deeper than the Century League. This years' team was young and was led by several top swimmers such as Devon Coate, Paula Norby, Karen Paulitschek and Lana Langford. All the girls on varsity this year are superb swimmers. The Younger Generation

by: Michele Nicks

This years girls Junior Varsity team is a young one, expected to do very well. Paul Davidson, the girls swim coach took on a handful this year. Some thought the large group would be impossible to to handle, but with the help of coach Susan Dunhann the girls are looking good, and so is the '87 season.

This years boys Junior Varsity team is a strong one. Coached by Boyd Philpot, and assistant coach Dan Smoot. The J.V. team is expected to do very well this season, and with all the workouts they endured they will be in top shape for next year.

Girls And Boys Track Have Difficult Season

Lack of numbers and key injuries led to a not so successful season for the boys track team. Those that remained worked hard and many recorded personal bests in their events. Top individual performers included Don Glover in the 880, and Scott Pulaski in the pole Vault. The Tiller girls were some what stronger, fighting for 3rd place in Sea View League this year. They were led by Doniesa Anderson in the jumps, Judy Jackson in the sprints and Laurie Reider, Erin Cunningham, and Olivia Fields in the distances.

2nd Place Finish Tillers: Plowing Up The Seaview League

The 1987 Tiller baseball team is starting off right where the 1986 team left off-winning! After last year's team won the Century League and went all the way to the third round of the CIF Playoffs, this year's squad had a lot to live up to. After going through the first round of games in the Seaview League. Undefeated (5-0), this team was well on their way to the league title and possibly the CIF Championships.

Leading the 1987 Tillers this year were returning shortstop Matt Lundin, pitcher Chris Floth, pitcher Monte Roberts, and outfielders Walt McMahon and Lee Pooler. In 1986 Lundin was named to the 3-A All CIF team and Floth was an All-Century League player along with Pooler.

This year's team under coach Vince Brown had some other players making major contributions. These players were outfielder Andy Harper, catcher Pete Pakes, outfielder Scott Feldman, third baseman Craig Morrison and second baseman Craig Gill. The team roster was completed by Greg Morales, Jason Lavin, Ray Flowers, Ty Davis, Ralph Grajeda, Andy Chi, Darren Puckett, Vern Broadnax, Scott Relph, and Roger Oreb. All of these players made the 1987 Tiller team a Championship club.

Future Championship Players

by: Bill Verge

Tustin High's J.V. and Frosh/Soph teams have really improved through the 80's. 1987 is the most talented group of players that Tustin High has had in many years. With new coaches, Mr. Al Rosmino for the freshman level and Mr. Greg Jennings for the J.V. level, has brought T.H.S. fans a lot to cheer about.

1. Wally Joyner- Nickname for J.V.'s Mike Snaadt, proves it with this violent blow.
2. Tense Situation- Ryan Relph scopes the ball which always seems important.
3. Concentration- Starting pitcher Chad Faltz throwing with power.

Softball "A New Beginning"

by: Mike Hoffman

With Mrs. Skinner's retirement last year, there was a need for a new coach for our Lady Tillers. This job was willingly filled by Jo Anne Ferrari. Jo Anne was formerly on the State Champion Softball team at Cal State Fullerton. She played pitcher at times but was mainly their star third baseman. Jo Anne has definitely brought new life and spirit to the lady Tillers this year. She is very confident and is looking forward to having an excellent season with her hard practices and talented girls. Assisting coach Ferrari this year is Diane Dodds. Diane was also a member of the Cal State Fullerton softball program, playing outfield for them.

This year the Tillers are defensively awesome. With their batting, these ladies get better and better every game. Already defeating Foothill in pre-season 5-4 and starting off the league with a 3-0 record, these lady Tillers are looking outrageous.

1. Great Slide- Tiller beats the catch to score.
2. Varsity- Front Row- Melissa Hurich, Michelle Lopez, Jamie Andrecich, Chanel Chambrone. Second Row- Shannon Ellis, Tracy Englieter, Dana LaBlanc, Denise Langley, Theresa Perkins. Third Row- Coach Joann Ferrari, Tanya McGuire, Julianne Lundin, Heather Dearden, Stefanie Staton, and Coach Dianne Dodd.

Tillers Add Boy's Volleyball To Schedule

With the U.S. win in volleyball at the 1984 Olympics, enthusiasm for what was previously a "beach sport" became rampant. The number of boys high school volleyball teams has increased from 23 to 29 in three years. This year Tustin has joined the ranks. Tustin has benefited from hiring an experienced coach. Kim Pickering began coaching at Santa Ana and Los Amigos High before going to USC as an assistant coach for the women's team. He now coaches also at Trabuco Hills High School.

Athletic director Al Rosmino commented, "The first year is a building year. It's not fun to face veteran beach schools like Newport which have had the sport for 10 years." In spite of the competition the Tillers have been respectable their first year.

Golfers Face Obstacles

Tiller golfers faced many sand traps during the 1987 year. Inexperience was the chief obstacle to a winning season. Under the direction of first year coach Charlie Causer our golfers look to easier greens in the future.

4. Varsity Volleyball: (bottom row) Quin Tran, Matt Rubin, Steve Harvey, Ted Kim, Trung Vu., (top row) Ki Pae, Mike Kang, Tom Hippensteel, Greg Lancaster, Scott Wilber, Richard Tollman, Coach Kim Pickering, Manager Brenda Bailey.

Sean-

Well sweetheart this year is over! We are seniors! I can't believe I just met you this year! Do you remember when you and Tony asked me, Kristin, Beth to your new's year eve party at your church?
 That was fun. That little girl, (your youth directors daughter) she sure does love you! Okay we probably got 30 mins to sleep you almost killed me - when you threw that confetti.
 It went in my mouth and I was gagging!
 I seriously thought I was gonna die!
 Remember when we went to the geek and Tony got my car stuck? Then your car stalled? I thought for sure some one would get us I must say getting to Know you was hard! But when you finally let me get to know you, you are a total sweetheart!! We've done a lot together, i honestly have had fun w/ you! Call me if you absolutely have nothing better to do!

Don't worry we'll go w/ a group of people!
Okay! Anyway i'll miss you, you did fine driving my stick!!! We've had a lot fun welp I better go, see ya later! Love always!
